Final BULLETINS

Halt Jap Attack. On Guadalcanal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A minor enemy thrust against the western flank of American positions on Guadalcanal Island has been repulsed, the United States Navy announced this afternoon, and there has been no material change in the military situation in the Solomon Islands.

The communiqué said the attack was made Oct. 20. That night an enemy bomber, believed to have been on a reconnaissance mission over Guadalcanal, was shot down by anti-aircraft fire from the U.S. batteries.

Rake North France

LONDON (CP)—R.A.F. army co-operation planes raked ground targets in northern France this morning and fighter planes pounced on two armed trawlers off the French coast this afternoon, it was reported authoritatively tonight. One fighter was missing.

Sorry Hepburn Out

TORONTO (CP)—Tim Buck, secretary of the Communist Party in Canada, issued a statement today saying the resignation of Mitchell Hepburn as Premier of Ontario Wednesday night should be regretted.

Nazis Lose Most

MOSCOW (AP)—President Michael Kalinin, addressing Russian youth today, declared Russia's losses "of course, are not small, but the Germans are losing considerably more."

He said the resistance of the Red armies to the enemy was on the increase.

Low Priority for Sport

OTTAWA (CP)—National selective service in a statement this afternoon defined professional sport as being "of comparatively low labor priority" and said no permit to play hockey will be granted to Stuart Smith of Ottawa, player with Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League, who now is employed as a skilled machinist in a war plant.

Daylight 'Air Raid'

NEW YORK (AP)—Air raid sirens sounded at 2:31 p.m. E.D.T., today signaling New York city's first daylight practice drill.

Except for air raid wardens, streets in the mid-town section of Manhattan quickly were deserted as pedestrians took shelter in buildings and entrances.

Chile to Go Limit

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—In his first public statement since appointment as foreign minister of Chile, Joaquín Fernández, hitherto ambassador to Uruguay, declared today in an interview published by the newspaper El Diario that "Chile will not hesitate to go to the utmost limit, if necessary, to safeguard the security of the hemisphere." Chile still maintains diplomatic relations with the Axis.

Brands Nazi Lie

LONDON (CP)—German claims to have sunk several large U.S. troop transports were declared today by Lt.-Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of U.S. army forces in the European theatre, to be "completely unfounded" and "merely another example of the untrustworthiness of Axis reports."

Eisenhower said the denial of the reports, which appeared late in September, was delayed "until every U.S. soldier on the Atlantic at the time was landed safely in Britain."

Unconfirmed Axis Claim

NEW YORK (AP)—The Berlin radio broadcast a dispatch from Tokyo, heard here this afternoon, asserting—without confirmation from any other source—that the United States had lost a heavy cruiser and a light cruiser in addition to two destroyers in the latest phase of the fight for the Solomons.

The Berlin broadcast said one Japanese cruiser "sustained medium damage."

Island Coal Mines Closed By Strike, 950 Men Idle

CUMBERLAND, B.C. (CP)—Three hundred miners of No. 5 mine of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited staged a "down tools" demonstration here today and were still not working late this afternoon in sympathy with 600 Nanaimo miners who struck from two of the company's mines there Wednesday.

In a statement issued by the United Mine Workers of America, the Cumberland miners said a meeting would be held tonight to decide further action in connection with the strike of Nanaimo miners who are protesting alleged delay in announcement of the findings of a government arbitration board. The board investigated their demands for a 30 per cent wage increase and sent its findings to Ottawa some time ago.

Early reports said No. 8 mine operated here by the collieries company also was idle, but later it was ascertained No. 8 miners were on their jobs in the pits.

CHARGE DELAY

A union statement issued following a meeting of union officials here said that failure to announce the decision of the arbitration board's investigation into the miners' demands for a 30 per cent wage increase "caused miners at No. 5 mine (Cumberland), to down tools this morning in a manner of protest on the unduly delayed action of the board."

Tied up in the strike are the island's three biggest coal producers, the No. 10 and No. 8 mines near Nanaimo and the No. 5 mine here, all operated by the Canadian Collieries Limited.

H. R. Plommer, general manager of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited termed the strike "a strike against the government in connection with the miners' application for a 30 per cent increase in wages over their own signed contract rates."

Company officials said some time ago that the possibility of closing down some of the island operations was being considered because of a shortage of labor.

Suggests 1 Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Immediate congressional action to abolish the United States army, navy and marine corps and to substitute for them a single, co-ordinated fighting force is urged by Melvin Maas (Rep.-Minn.), ranking minority member of the House of Representatives naval committee and himself a marine colonel. Returned from a four months' tour of duty in the Pacific, Maas said in an interview today his experiences in combat zones had confirmed his opinion that such a step is essential.

Japs Acknowledge Loss of Transports

NEW YORK (AP)—The Japanese acknowledged today, belatedly and backhandedly, that they lost several transports last February in the landing on the Netherlands East Indies island of Java.

A Tokyo report in the newspaper Asahi, broadcast by the Berlin radio, listed two Japanese transports and an enemy gunboat as raised by divers in Bantam Bay, Java, and said salvage crews were working on "several Japanese transports which all had been sunk when the Japanese landed on Java."

Brig. Macklin Arrives

VANCOUVER (CP)—Brig. W. H. S. Macklin, new officer in charge of administration, Pacific Command, arrived here today from Ottawa with his wife and family.

Brig. Macklin was appointed to his new post Sept. 1 but an attack of appendicitis, necessitating an operation, delayed his arrival.

THE DAY THE WAR ENDS...

that will be the day to think of spending. New radios—new cars—new everything. Those who will have the money to buy them will be the ones who put their money into Third Victory Loan Bonds now. Today is the day to think of producing—and saving—so that the war can be won.

Slash Fire Loss Put at $500,000; Law Change Asked

VANCOUVER—Total of insurance claims resulting from slash-burning fires in the Vancouver Island timber area last month reach around $500,000, it was estimated today by logging interests.

Logging machinery was destroyed, camps damaged and piles of logs ready for shipment were burned in various areas. Near Nanaimo a mill was burned down. Days of production were also lost as crews were taken off cutting work to fight fires. Through higher insurance rates, the industry as a whole will have to bear the losses.

ASK CHANGE IN LAW

It is expected that steps will be taken by the industry to have the government change the forestry law requiring slash-burning. Returns here are pointed to as indicative that slash-burning is no safeguard against fire, as areas slash-burned three and four years ago have been swept by new fires each summer since.

Younger and more modern trained foresters, it was explained, are against slash-burning, which was established in B.C. as a policy years ago and has been followed as a tradition. These men point out that burning a logged area not only destroys saplings anywhere up to several years old, but renders the soil barren for years after by destroying the humus and the natural seed-bed. They assert that burning sets back regrowth by upwards of a decade. In an unburned area, fallen timber and rotting bark produce shaded areas which retain moisture and make possible green growth, which in turn cuts fire hazard.

SAY PROTESTS MADE

Representatives of the timber industry here today said that "wrong guesses" as to the weather on the part of some forestry men were responsible for last month's costly destruction. Added to this was the fact that the military authorities had urged the forestry men to rush the slash-burning, in the belief, based on B.C. forestry practice, that slash-burning would reduce fire hazard. In some cases operators who protested the danger of burning because of dry conditions, were threatened with prosecution if they did not burn. In one area near Victoria, fire started over the protests of the men on the ground, swept through five miles before it could be stopped, destroying timber, machinery and camp equipment. Loggers said they intend to appeal to Premier John Hart to see that such things can't happen again.

Darlan at Dakar Talks of 'Danger'

VICHY (AP)—Admiral Jean Darlan, broadcasting at Dakar, told the inhabitants of France's West African naval base today that "new dangers are hanging over you."

His broadcast, in the name of Marshal Petain, was the first indication that Darlan, chief of all Vichy's armed forces, had reached Dakar on a hurried trip from France.

He was reported earlier at Algiers en route to the West African port. Darlan compared Dakar's situation with that of British-occupied Madagascar, and gave the inhabitants the marshal's word that any attack on it would meet the same answer as that in September, 1940, when an Allied expedition failed to take the port.

The message read by Darlan also declared on behalf of Petain, "with the most legitimate pride," that charges concerning Darlan were false and that "France never since her defeat has failed in her word."

(There have been reports that Darlan was being used by the Germans as a submarine base.)

Nixon Quits Ontario Cabinet After Hepburn

TORONTO (CP)—Hon. Harry Nixon, Ontario provincial secretary, sent his resignation to Premier Gordon Conant at noon today.

The resignation came just about 18 hours after Mitchell F. Hepburn had resigned as Premier, and Mr. Conant had succeeded him.

"I'm going home to the farm, but I am not going to resign my seat," said Mr. Nixon, who represents Brant riding in the Ontario Legislature.

Says Premiership Handed Around

In his letter of resignation Mr. Nixon listed three specific grounds on which he differed with the government. He disagreed with Ontario's attitude toward the Dominion government's conduct of the war, with the government's extension of its own life (which would have expired this month) and with the way the Premiership was transferred from Mr. Hepburn to Mr. Conant. Mr. Nixon said the premiership "is too sacred a trust and too vitally important to be so casually given and received, notwithstanding the personal wishes of the two people immediately concerned."

"The voters themselves, the party, the elected representatives who are expected to support the government in office and cabinet colleagues are entitled to be consulted."

Shortly after Mr. Nixon's resignation had been sent to the Premier's office, Hon. Farquhar Oliver, Minister of Public Works, went in for an interview with the new leader. As he left the office later he appeared visibly moved.

A newsman suggested to him that "public opinion is that you will follow Mr. Nixon and resign."

He replied: "Public opinion is sometimes correct."

Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways, when told of Mr. Nixon's resignation, simply said: "If I am invited to remain I will be glad to do so."

No Explanation Yet By Conant

Premier Conant declined comment on the resignation. Mr. Hepburn retains his seat in the Legislature.

(Commenting on the resignation of Premier Hepburn of Ontario, Attorney-General R. L. Maitland said today: "It was a sudden and interesting announcement. Mr. Hepburn seems to have done all the thinking for the Ontario cabinet for so long that future policies in Ontario will be very interesting to watch.")

'We Must Be Tough' Victoria M.P. Wires

J. W. Spencer, chairman of the Third Victory Loan Committee, this morning received the following telegram from R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Ottawa:

"I cannot let this occasion pass without a word of appreciation to you, your committee and the citizens of Vancouver Island as you start on the work of raising Victoria's quota for the Third Victory Loan—the largest yet asked for in Canada."

"All the citizens of Victoria share with the rest of Canada the toughest struggle in our history. To win we must be tough with ourselves as well as with others. The winning of this war was not wished on us. We accepted the challenge knowing the struggle would be terrific—that no one would escape the cruel treacherous arm of our enemies. The relative strength of the forces of our enemy—and ourselves are now in the balance."

"I urge the people to throw in their full weight, no matter how little or how large. Everything is needed to turn the scales definitely in our favor. From now on we must never give the enemy a slack rein. Keep on pressing till the finish when peace will be made on our terms. Raise your sights, and finish the job ahead of time. It can and must be done."

"The only way we can bring our sons home to a free country is with your money. Subscribe all you can now, and save the time of others."

Axis to Denounce Geneva Convention On War Prisoners

NEW YORK (AP)—Reuters quoted a Vichy broadcast of dispatches today from Stockholm as reporting that Germany and her associates had conferred on plans to denounce the Geneva Convention agreements on Red Cross and war prisoners on the grounds that the 1864 convention had been violated by the United Nations.

The German diplomatic commentary spoke bitterly of the blockade of Germany, which it purported to be "mass murdering."

Admit U.S. Fliers May Be in Jap Hands

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today it was possible some of the United States fliers who took part in the Doolittle raid on Tokyo had been forced down after leaving Japan and had been captured by the Japanese.

Discussing the planes which raided Japan, he said:

"One was interned in Russia. Several others were involved in forced landings in China. A very few of these planes are carried as missing."

He said the names in Japanese propaganda broadcasts "fairly well correspond" with those of army airmen long carried on army records as "missing."

Stimson told his press conference that the war department had no reports other than those by the Japanese radio that the men had been subjected to trial.

"Our fliers who attacked Tokyo were instructed to attack only military objectives, and our reports are that they did so with remarkable accuracy," Stimson said.

"We abide by the Geneva Convention governing the conduct of war and we expect our enemies to do the same."

"We are very loath to believe Japan is going to violate those rules."

"We have allowed the Red Cross to inspect the condition of all Japanese prisoners held by us and are making every effort to see that the rules of the Geneva Convention and the rules of humanity are carried out."

Axis Leaders Trumping Up Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Germany and Japan appear from their propaganda broadcasts heard Wednesday to be trying to build up a case of alleged war inhumanities to be used to justify reprisals against the United States and Britain, and the punishment of prisoners.

The Tokyo radio named four U.S. airmen it said were captured after the April 18 raid on Tokyo, and said they had confessed inhumanities against the civilian population. Saying they would be "severely punished in accordance with international law," it gave their names as Lieut. William J. Farrow, 23; Lieut. Dean E. Hollmark, 27; Cpl. Jacob D. Deshaizer, 29, and Sgt. Harold A. Spatz, 20.

The German high command charged in its communiqué that British planes had attacked a German dressing station for wounded on the Egyptian front,

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

LONDON (AP)—I am prepared to reaffirm a forecast of months ago—that Hitler would be a beaten man if he did not break through this year to the fresh resources of the lower Caucasus and to strategic bases of the Middle East.

As a matter of fact, I have been reaffirming it as vigorously as possible for the past two days in these articles. They have tried to demonstrate the Allies might win the Hitlerian part of the world war by next fall if Britain and America rush to the kill right away with their bomber forces over western Europe and Germany.

A lot of things might happen in a couple of months. The Nazi dictator continues to pour the blood of Germany's youth against the scared portals of Stalingrad and among the rocky foothills of the Caucasus. It wouldn't be surprising if he made some further gains.

STUDY THE RECORD

Still we can discount the future and stand on what already has happened. Hitler is mortally hurt right now.

Recently I have put it to four distinguished generals, three British and one American, that the Fuehrer's back is broken. Every one agreed.

Don't get the idea that I say the war is over. It isn't by a long shot. Hitler is on his way out, but he still has all the ferocity and fighting strength of a cornered rat.

We have bloody days before us. The Allies will suffer defeats and disappointments before we are through. The rat still has to be clubbed into submission. However, in the view of many experts, that dirty but satisfying job can be done by perhaps a year from now if we approach it rightly.

LACKS NEW RESOURCES

The prediction that Hitler would be rendered vulnerable to a death thrust if he arrived in his present state by the end of the year is based on two thoughts:

1. Lacking fresh resources and strategic bases which would go with them, he would be unable to repair the colossal damage suffered in Russia.

2. Meantime, Britain and the United States would have been piling up strength and would be able to jump on him in his weakness.

The first condition seems fulfilled. Upon fulfillment of the second condition depends whether we may be able to beat the Nazis by, say, next fall or whether the war will drag on interminably. Everything depends on the speed with which we act and the manner in which we attack.

We have a double mission to perform. We must hit Hitler immediately while he is still groggy from exertions in Russia. We must prepare the way for that second land front which will give the gallant Russians the relief they need.

MUST PREPARE

Only by a devastating aerial preparation can the ground be cleared for invasion. To attempt to land an army without this would be mass murder. And this preparation would kill two birds with one stone for it would not only render invasion feasible but at the same time render Hitler terribly vulnerable by depriving him of his main war industries and means of transport.

There are fewer than 200 prime targets for the combined air forces to destroy in order to force Germany close to impotency. Actually, the destruction of 40 of the most vital would knock Hitler's hopes into a cocked hat.

The thing needed to make this aerial assault possible is quick reinforcement of both British and American bomber fleets in Britain. By trebling the present forces at once the trick could be turned fairly quickly.

R.A.F., R.C.A.F. and U.S. air men have been giving concrete examples recently of how military targets can be wiped out in a single raid. Your Cologne and Rostocks and Luebeck and a host of other places clearly demonstrate the possibilities.

And believe me, if the Allies try to land 500,000 boys on the shores of France without ample air preparation you are going to see a slaughter that will rock the world.

RENAULT RAID

The R.A.F. in a lightning sweep knocks out the great Renault works in Paris, destroying more tanks than have been accounted for in all the Libyan fighting and depriving Hitler of great manufacturing power.

We applaud heartily but briefly and then forget. But if a 100,000 commandos battled their way ashore from the channel, fought their way to Paris and did the same job with the loss of half their number the world would go wild with adulation.

If any army marched against Cologne and with a great expenditure in life, equipment and time did damage which the R.A.F. did in a few hours and a few casualties, history would ring with the deed.

Yes, it's bombers that can do this particular job for us expeditiously and with relatively tiny cost. Multiply Cologne by 100 and what have you?

U.S. Rail Survey Pr. George to Alaska Gives 1,485-M. Route

Survey of the route proposed for the Alaska railway has been completed by the U.S. Army Engineers Corps and the maps and estimates are on their way to Washington, D.C., for consideration by a congressional committee, it was learned today.

Route proposed by the army runs from Prince George to Fairbanks, up the Rocky Mountain trench. Total length is 1,485 miles, 520 miles of which are in British Columbia. The survey shows a maximum grade of 1.5 per cent northbound and 2 per cent southbound. It was explained that the higher southbound maximum was not considered a factor as it was assumed that the heavy traffic load would be northbound. Cost of construction is estimated by the army at $68,000-a mile, which would give a total cost of $100,000,000.

200 Nazis Bayoneted Soviets Welcome First Snowfall; Capture Trench

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
MOSCOW (AP)—Snow swirled across the steppes of the Don-Volga corridor today as the Russians announced recapture of several buildings within the industrial area of northern Stalingrad and a major trench raid northwest of the city in which more than 200 Germans were killed.

Winter was starting to grip Russia's greatest battlefield of 1942. The steppes were converted into muddy bogs.

A Pravda dispatch reported an abrupt shift in the weather, with dry warmth suddenly succeeded by rain, a cold wave and the first snowfall of the season.

Whether the snow had reached Stalingrad was not apparent, but a Red Star dispatch said rains and high winds—apparently forerunners of the steppes storms—hampered enemy movements there.

Russian seizure of the initiative in the northern suburbs was reported to have come at a time when the Nazi offensive was slackening to attacks in restricted sectors. All assaults at the two principal points of combat, near a north side factory and a workers' settlement, were reported repulsed.

Advancing Russians Recapture Hill

Izvestia said a Russian counter-attack outside Stalingrad had driven the Germans from an important hill overlooking the city. Another height was declared captured through a Russian flanking manoeuvre which overran two Nazi defence lines.

The noon communiqué announced Soviet troops had broken into German entrenchments northwest of the city and had killed more than 200 Germans in hand-to-hand fighting.

The diminished attacks on Stalingrad were said to have been initiated from the west, against Russian lines formed through the factory yards, and from the north.

Pravda said the Germans still held numerical superiority, sometimes putting twice as many men as the Russians into action. The Russians were said to have adopted the classical round defence at individual points where the enemy hit hardest.

Deep snow fell in the mountains of the Caucasus, where the Germans have bogged down in the two main sectors, the district of Mordok and southeast of Novorossisk.

Germans Fail In Caucasus

Soviet dispatches said the Germans continued to press numerous attacks in the foothills without effect.

(German field headquarters claimed today that further "stubbornly-defended pillboxes and barricades were taken in the bitter battle" at Stalingrad.)

(The Nazi communiqué again stressed bad weather conditions and for the second consecutive day acknowledged that Marshal Timoshenko's armies were hammering violently against the German left flank between the Don and Volga rivers.)

(The Hitler command claimed, however, that strong Russian attacks had been "repelled by the German and Rumanian air force.")

With his 1942 timetable disrupted, Hitler now faces the swift approach of winter and the prospect of either withdrawing his siege armies or seeing them huddle in dugouts and trenches in the ruined countryside.

Dispatches to Izvestia reported that the steppes across the Don-Volga corridor had been transformed into muddy bogs, with early October's unseasonal warmth giving way suddenly to rain, a cold wave and the first snow of the season.

Lost 53,000 Working Days

LONDON (CP)—Labor Minister Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons today that labor disputes during September had caused stoppages costing 53,000 working days. In answer to a question he said 25,000 workers had been involved in 132 disputes. Wages were the main issue in 74 cases and working conditions in 49.

Dried Apple Price Satisfies Growers

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — Fruit growers and shippers here today generally expressed satisfaction with Ottawa advice that the Wartime Prices and Trade Board had set a new price for dehydrated apples of 11 cents per pound, for standard-grade packed in 50-pound cartons, with other grades and sizes accordingly.

The price compares with the original ceiling price of 7½ cents and the present United States price of 17 cents for the same quality. Officials of the Kelowna Growers' Exchange have nearly 200,000 pounds on hand and their plant will operate at capacity for the balance of the season.

Convert Bombers

LONDON (CP) — The first disclosure that Britain has converted some of her twin-engined Hampden medium bombers into torpedo planes was given by the air ministry today in a communiqué which said that one, on patrol with the coastal command Wednesday, scored a hit on an enemy supply ship off the Norwegian coast.

Victory Loan Sales Beat Pace of Previous Drive

OTTAWA (CP) — Subscriptions of $46,449,950 on Wednesday raised to $139,084,250 the cumulative total of bond sales during the first three days of the $750,000,000 Third Victory Loan, campaign headquarters announced today.

$11,500,000 ORDER

Tuesday's subscriptions were bolstered by an $11,500,000 bond order from Canada Life Assurance Co. at Toronto, but still fell slightly below $41,700,000 daily average needed if the loan objective is to be reached by Nov. 7 when the drive is scheduled to end.

But the $46,449,950 worth of bonds sold yesterday was considerably above the figures of sales for the third day of the Second Victory Loan last spring.

LARGE PURCHASES

Besides the Canada Life Assurance subscription, today's loan headquarters' statement listed a number of other large purchases from civic and corporate funds: Ontario—Board of Sinking Fund Trustees, Windsor, $1,000,000; Huron and Erie Mortgage Corp. and Canada Trust Co., combined, London, $1,100,000; Independent Order of Foresters, Toronto, $500,000; H. J. Heinz Co. of Canada Ltd., Leamington, $400,000; Anaconda American Brass Ltd., New Toronto, $500,000; Ford Motor Co. of Canada, Windsor, $5,000,000.

Quebec—Singer Manufacturing Co. of St. John's, Que., with plants at St. John's and Thruso, $2,300,000; Shawinigan Water and Power Co. and subsidiary companies, $2,685,000; St. Maurice Power Co., $500,000; Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. Ltd., Montreal, $1,000,000; Courtaulds (Canada) Ltd., Montreal, $500,000.

9 Nazi Fighters Downed at Lorient

LONDON (CP) — Nine enemy fighters were destroyed in Wednesday's raid on the German submarine base at Lorient, France, by United States flying fortresses and their accompanying squadrons of R.C.A.F. and R.A.F. fighters, it was announced today.

All the fighter planes returned safely, but three fortresses are missing.

An announcement by the U.S. army air forces said formations of German Focke-Wulf 190's met the attacking forces as they crossed the enemy coast on their way to the target and a running fight continued until the planes neared their objective.

An earlier communiqué on the fortress raid had said only that direct bomb hits were scored on the target, but reports broadcast by the Vichy radio indicated the raid had had a devastating effect.

Both transmitters of the German-controlled Hilversum radio in Holland went off the air between 1 and 3.30 p.m. today, the Netherlands News Agency said, indicating Allied planes might be in the region. Hilversum, in central Holland, is in an area recently hard-hit by the Allies in blows against Nazi rail and water transport in the Netherlands.

ENGLISH TOWN ATTACKED

German air raiders bombed and machine-gunned an English southeast coast town at dawn today, causing an undetermined number of casualties and extensive property damage.

Streets were littered with wreckage and rubble left by the bombs of the raiders, who swooped in just above the water. Several direct hits were scored on homes and business properties and a number of persons were trapped.

The Press Association said persons who saw today's raid reported the Germans used bouncing bombs.

One bomb which landed on a beach was said to have bounced over waterfront dwellings and struck a house on a sidewalk several hundred yards away. Other bombs, it was said, hit a street and bounced 200 yards over a row of cottages.

Goebbels Talks

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP) — Propaganda Minister Goebbels acknowledged damage from Allied attacks in the west in an address Wednesday at Gdynia, but asserted "we are winning decisive victories in the east," a Transocean news agency dispatch said today.

The dispatch reported that Goebbels, making his first speech at the conquered Polish port, said "we shall continue the war in the east until the Bolshevik power will have been finally broken."

He charged that Britain had started barbaric warfare and air attacks on open towns in stating that "we have had wounds inflicted on us in the west." He said Germany maintained the initiative and stood on "secure military ground."

4 Children in 1 Year

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Edward Schwabel, 24, Orchard Park, looks at her twin boys and murmurs: "We never expected it to happen again." The boys were born today, less than a year after Mrs. Schwabel, wife of a trolley operator, gave birth to twin girls.

Fewer Store Clerks

WASHINGTON (AP) — War Production Board officials suggested today the next tightening of the civilian economy in the United States may be a sharp reduction in store clerks, theatre ushers and other service personnel.

Haul Scrap Over Horne Lake Road

Col. A. Playfair, left, and Rev. H. P. Davidson are among well-known citizens of Qualicum Beach and Parksville actively working under the auspices of the Salvage Corps of B.C. in that district. Two trucks, one with an engine-operated hoist, have been allocated to the work of the corps there and are manned and operated by Mr. Davidson of the United Church and Col. A. Playfair, who is known to many Victorians as former proprietor of Sunset Inn.

Col. Playfair is an outstanding example of how citizens, who are zealously patriotic and energetic, can be young at 72, as the colonel pulls his weight in loading heavy masses of iron and steel. The popular United Church pastor undertakes the driving, assisted from time to time, as occasion requires, by Robert C. Weld of Parksville and A. Dougan of Qualicum, the latter donating his services in linking up large metal objects with his acetylene torch.

Operations are at present commencing on salvaging 50 tons of steel donated by J. Welch of the Olympic Logging Co., which material is situated on the beautiful new scenic road just completed along the old railway on the banks of Horne Lake. This road is at present not open to the public, but it will be an outstanding scenic and tourist attraction after the war.

These men working for the corps in Qualicum have been active in branches of war work in the community. Their enthusiastic entrance into the specialized salvage of iron and steel is greatly valued by the Salvage Corps as of the utmost importance to munition supply.

Underground Press Leads Resistance To Laval's Plea

BY THOMAS F. HAWKINS
BERNE (AP) — Editors of newspapers printed and circulated secretly in Unoccupied France were reported today to be assuming the leadership in a campaign to defy conscription of labor for Germany.

Their work, more than any other underground activity, appeared to have a chance of coordinating individual resentment against the conscription issue which, the Vichy correspondent of the Neue Zuercher Zeitung said, really involved "a decision for or against collaboration with Germany."

Sources here said it appeared clear that Germany is determined to take French workers by compulsion if Pierre Laval fails to come through as Germany demanded. He was said to have been given until Nov. 1 to announce the workings of a conscription plan, and until Nov. 30 for actual delivery of the workers to Germany. Foreign observers believed from the tone of Laval's speech at Vichy two days ago that he himself was not optimistic of success.

PERSONAL PROBLEM

A question thus was posed individually for every Frenchman—the most direct personal problem to arise since Laval took power as the Chief of Government in Vichy six months ago. The Tag-wacht predicted that "energetic reactions" could be expected.

The situation conceivably could become so critical as to compel the Axis to undertake occupation of the whole country, although conservative observers thought matters had not yet gone that far. (In London a Fighting French source predicted Germany would take over a big slice of unoccupied France to bring workers who refused to go to the Reich under Nazi control.)

Factory managers have received detailed instructions and quotas of the number of workers they are expected to supply.

Newspapers leading the campaign of resistance, it is said, probably are read by several million persons. They include Combat, which prints and distributes more than 100,000 copies twice monthly, The Liberator, and a half dozen others.

ST. JOHN'S

The meeting of St. John's A.Y.P.A. was held recently this week in the rectory with Rev. R. Greig as guest of honor. The local council report was given by Margery Le Vack. Plans were discussed for the Halloween party to be held Oct. 27 in the schoolroom. Eileen Ellis, the convener, asked the members to wear costumes and small black masks. Novel pumpkin-shaped invitations were given out to members. St. Alban's and St. Martin's-in-the-Field are to be guests.

Reports on the provincial conference were presented by Eileen Ellis, Joan Brice and Jim O'Neill. Mr. Greig complimented them on handling of reports. The meeting adjourned to the church for a short service conducted by Mr. Greig. Corporate communion will be Nov. 1, and an executive meeting will be held at the home of Mary Wilson on Nov. 2.

U.S. Destroyers Lost

Bombers Hit 2 Jap Warships; Aussies Advance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allied and Japanese forces counted mounting losses in the battle of the southwestern Pacific today as planes and ships of both sides jockeyed for positions to throw decisive blows.

In the Solomon Islands, where a major naval war may be touched off at any hour, the United States lost two destroyers, the O'Brien and the Meredith. American planes retaliated by damaging an enemy cruiser and a destroyer and shooting down 12 Japanese planes.

Westward of the Solomons, Allied heavy bombers blasted at enemy ships in New Britain's harbor of Rabaul, causing fires and explosions. More fires were started on the Rabaul airbase by bombs dropped by Allied fliers from the Australian command. Another raid inflicted serious damage on Japanese-occupied Maubisse in Timor, north of Port Darwin.

AUSSIES SWEEP ON

Meantime, the Japanese back-firing attempt to grab port Moresby in New Guinea suffered another setback as Australian troops swept on the foe's flank in the Owen Stanley mountains and forced a retreat. Allied headquarters reported today (Australian time).

A spokesman said greater numbers of troops are engaged on both sides and the Japanese might be making a last stand before backing nine miles north to Kokoda, midway between Moresby and the enemy's Buna invasion base.

Announcing loss within the last few days of the 1,570-ton O'Brien and the 1,630-ton Meredith, the navy said Wednesday night the personnel of the former were believed saved and many from the Meredith. Each carried a normal complement of 175 officers and men.

The destroyer O'Brien was launched Oct. 20, 1937. The Meredith was launched April 24, 1940.

Thus, in its present phase, the battle for the Solomons appears to be: For the enemy, an effort to gather his strength for an assault, while attempting to weaken the American defenses by bombing the air base on Guadalcanal. For the American forces, an effort to soften the blow when it comes by attacking the enemy's sea forces, seeking to cut him off from supplies and disorganize his land forces with aerial attacks.

LARGE NAVAL UNITS

On the island, what troop activity there was taken to be skirmishing for position. Since two destroyers were lost it was taken for granted that larger U.S. naval units were in the area awaiting a favorable opportunity to strike.

Persons familiar with Japanese tactics, speculated—that raids made this week were a typical bit of Japanese strategy which they made familiar during the early fighting in the Philippines.

First the fighting planes came over, the object being to draw American fighters into the air, skirmish with them until they are forced back to the field for refueling, with the bombers appearing at that point and finding the American fighters earth-bound.

May Quit Vichy

BERNE (AP) — Admiral Jean Darlan, Vichy's chief of the armed forces, now at Dakar, is touring French Africa to sound out defence possibilities in case of a decision by some sort of French government to transfer its base of operations from Vichy, usually well-informed and conservative private observers here said tonight.

To Set Poultry Prices On Zoning Basis

OTTAWA (CP) — Establishment of ceiling wholesale prices for poultry, on a zoning basis similar to that of beef, was forecast in informed quarters today. Supplies of poultry have been plentiful during recent months and retailers have been governed by the ceiling applied on the basis of prices charged during the basic period Sept. 15 to Oct. 11 last year.

But to bring wholesale prices generally into line throughout the country, it was understood the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has considered the establishment of zones within which the wholesale prices of poultry products will be established.

'The Offensive Phase'

A PART FROM ITS INTRINSIC VALUE as a profound message of hope and encouragement to the peoples of the United Nations—and it was the utterance of a man who always speaks with authority and conviction—one passage in the memorable address which Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts delivered to both Houses of Parliament in London yesterday will add considerably to the enemy's confusion and apprehension which the fulminations of Axis leaders already are beginning to reveal. The South African Prime Minister did not equivocate as he referred to the potentialities of the fourth year of the conflict and proclaimed the end of defensive tactics. On the contrary; the part of his speech which must have struck a responsive chord in the minds of all those who heard him or read his message bears repetition here:

"The stage is set for the last, the offensive phase. Let me set your minds at rest at once. Final alignments both of the Allies and our enemies have been made. Resources have been developed and mobilized on a very large scale, ours still on the increase, those of the enemy on the decline. Our map power still is growing, that of the enemy is getting depleted while he makes ever heavier drafts on his suffering vassal peoples. The spectre of want, hunger and starvation is beginning to stalk through the subject countries. The spirit of unrest is heaving and rising. Explosive limits of endurance are nearing. We are approaching the point when both on the war fronts and on the home fronts in enemy countries the situation is ripening for far-reaching developments."

Straight to the point was the veteran soldier-statesman's warning that delay and overpreparation might lead to the missing of the great opportunity. But in this regard he appeared to have no qualms; and it was natural and prudent that he ended his implied promise of the action to which the peoples of the United Nations are eagerly looking forward with the simple statement that to say more might "set going unnecessary and perhaps harmful speculations." One is left with the conviction, however, that this part of his address was charged with a specific purpose, while the superb eloquence and profound wisdom with which he clothed it and the rest of his oration were reminiscent of the many magnificent contributions to the cause of democratic justice which have marked the South African Prime Minister's long and lustrous career.

Retires In His Prime

UNtil Mr. Mitchell Hepburn considers the time opportune to explain why he suddenly resigned the Premiership of Ontario late yesterday, and what his plans for the future are likely to be, the general public will have to be satisfied with the bare statement that he contemplates eventual retirement from political life. It will be recalled that some time ago he announced his intention to turn over the government leadership to Attorney-General Conant; and he has now done so, the new Premier already having intimated that he is engaged on the task of ministerial reorganization.

For eight years Mr. Hepburn has led Ontario's provincial Liberal government. His tenure of office has been marked by numerous conflicts with Mr. Mackenzie King; and the ex-Premier emphatically announced this morning that he proposes to remain a critic of the federal Prime Minister and his government—an attitude of mind which, of course, he is at complete liberty to indulge. The feud between Queen's Park and Ottawa had its origin in the controversy between Mr. King and Mr. Hepburn on the issue of power export five years ago. Some of the exchanges were, at times, more forceful than polite. On the outbreak of war, however, the breach was more or less healed, or, at least, so surface indications suggested. But the truce was a short-lived one.

Mr. Hepburn says he is still a Liberal and proposes to remain one. He spurns the idea of bidding for the National Conservative Party leadership. Of the ex-Premier's popularity with a large section of the public of his province there seems to be little doubt. But in the absence of any specific explanation why he, at the youthful age of 46, should suddenly decide to exchange the color and excitement of official life—which he seemed to enjoy to the full—for the placid existence of a farmer, one is compelled to recall his propensity for doing the unexpected.

Potentialities In The North

BUILDING OF A RAILWAY THROUGH northern British Columbia to Alaska at an estimated cost of $100,000,000 is being considered by the United States government as a war measure. Economic potentialities of vast proportions are implicit in its construction—as it would unlock an empire of natural resources. These potentialities the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce has not been slow to envision in a comprehensive memorandum on the project.

It points out that surveys have already been made of a proposed projection of the Northern Alberta Railways from Hines Creek to Fort St. John north of the Peace River. At this point the Northern Alberta Railways would be within striking distance of the coalfields lying east of Finlay Forks and between that point and Fort St. John, on both sides of the Peace River. These constitute perhaps the largest untapped reserve of high grade coal in Canada. As a supply of "black diamonds" would be vital in the operation of the Alaska railway, and as fuel would be one of the essential commodities to be carried to the areas it would serve, it is asserted that the railway would necessarily have to tap these fields.

Opening of the coalfields of the Peace would be a development of major importance for the whole northwest—and especially so from the viewpoint of postwar reconstruction and industrial opportunity, with the prospect of a new age of synthetics and plastics requiring a high-grade coal as basic material.

'At the Gates of India'

JUDGED BY RECENT DISCUSSIONS IN the House of Commons and various ministerial announcements since the outbreak of the Congress Party's campaign of "non-violent non-cooperation," the British government has indicated no new approach to a settlement of India's pressing problem. For some weeks rumor has been busy with suggestions of mediation by a species of United Nations tribunal in the hope that Mr. Churchill and his colleagues could have the benefit of the collective advice which such a body might bring to bear on the allegedly unsolvable points of conflict. No official pronouncement from the Prime Minister or any member of his cabinet has shed the least light on such reports. The recent decisive vote in the Commons was taken by the outside world as a definite intimation that until Mr. Gandhi called off his challenge, by ordering at least a truce in the visible and invisible warfare initiated more than two months ago, British policy could not be expected to undergo much change.

How serious matters in India have grown since the Congress Party took its decision last August we have no means of knowing. From the somewhat sketchy reports which have broken through the heavy screen of censorship, however, it is plain to most people that existing conditions are considered sufficient justification for the continuance of repressive measures which, to say the least, cast ominous shadows across that theatre of war. It is to repeat the obvious to say that what happens among the masses in India, especially with a brutal enemy on the threshold of the great sub-continent, is of serious concern to the peoples of all the United Nations. The latest straw blowing in the political wind has taken the form of a proposal from Mr. Chakravarti Rajagopalachari—a former Premier of Madras and an Indian moderate leader who resigned from the working committee of the Congress Party—that he fly to London and explain India's growing peril. He feels the British people have been misled in connection with the problem and believes he can "make them see the truth." Were it possible for him to obtain passport and prompt passage, he says, "neither disinclination nor work will stand in the way of my going to England."

Whether this is a suggestion which the British government will accept remains to be seen. But several developments of the last few days will lead many to hope that an apparent ironclad reserve will be lifted if the moment to resume negotiations should be considered propitious. The presence in London of South Africa's Prime Minister Smuts, the recent gathering of British and American military leaders at New Delhi, the growing spirit of revolt throughout the whole of continental Europe, and the unabated demand for a general offensive against the Axis—this combination of signs of something important in the offing should underscore the argument in favor of missing no opportunity to meet India's problem with a revived realism. It would be an uncomfortable commentary on British statesmanship if it should require a Rajagopalachari, or any other liberal leader, to prove that the people of Britain are far ahead of their government in a matter so vital for the democratic coalition as this crucial problem.

Why Not Start Now?

DURING THE COURSE OF HIS SPEECH in Carnegie Hall in New York recently—as part of the ceremonial commemorating China's national day—Dr. T. V. Soong, Chinese Minister for Foreign Affairs and brother-in-law of the founder of the Republic, urged the United Nations to set up an executive council as soon as possible. The object he had in view was the establishment of an international organization that could be made operative while the war progresses, and acquire that authority and co-operative action that could be promptly applied to the problems of the aftermath.

This is sage advice. If some such body were established, just as there are dozens of bodies now examining and anticipating the challenge of the peace, the mistakes of which the League of Nations was pitifully guilty assuredly could be avoided. No doubt exists as to the necessity of collective security; it is essential to individual safety and international progress. Naturally enough he would be a brave man who attempted to draw a detailed blueprint of the world a decade hence. But the fact remains that unless the United Nations begin to look ahead now, and make up their minds to the inescapable fact that the same heroic measures being taken to subdue the Axis will be necessary to win the victory, and see that it stays won, much valuable time and great opportunities will be forever lost.

Now would be a good time for folks to start returning those cups of tea they have been borrowing at odd times during the last 20 years.

HADDOCK FACES

THE MEN WHO are going about Victoria now, making Victory Loan speeches, all report the discovery of a well-known Canadian phenomenon, namely the cold, deadpan expression of Canadian audiences. Politicians, unhappy fellows, have known this for many years—known that the Canadian audience is the toughest in the world. Why this should be so, I do not know, but I suspect that it is associated somehow with our cold Canadian climate and the vast emptiness of our country, which tends to make people self-contained and unemotional. True, our coastal climate is warm enough, but we have taken our public manners from the older provinces, where most of us originated.

In the United States the public meeting has long been one of the chief public amusements, and before the movies came, was the sure outlet for all the pent-up emotion of the community. At one stage in American history great religious revivals in the open air, the familiar camp meetings, were the occasion of such unbridled enthusiasm that all ordinary decency and morality quite broke down. Even now, with the movies and other entertainment to absorb them, the Americans throw into their politics and all forms of public gathering a spirit which is totally lacking here.

The British are commonly supposed to be a phlegmatic race, but their public meetings also have spirit and zip and often the most vigorous kind of repartee. Here, for the most part, the public meeting consists of one poor fellow on a platform trying to pump life into 1,000 dead haddocks.

That, at least, is what the politicians tell me. They tell me that the sight of 2,000 dull, cold fishy eyes turned upon them from the pit of a theatre is one of the most horrifying spectacles imaginable. I have seen this same dead-haddock look on little audiences in country school houses in the wilds of British Columbia and in the villages of Ontario. For some reason, so far unknown, the Canadian thinks it improper to show too much interest in a public speaker. Having got into the meeting for nothing, the Canadian is not going to give the speaker something for nothing, not even an interested look. We are a canny people. It must be the Scottish blood in us.

BARGAIN

AS FAR as the Victory Loan speakers are concerned, they should not fear to face any audience in the land, for they offer the best bargain of the day. They are not asking for anything. They are not seeking even election like the politician. They are offering something which the public needs at a ridiculously low price.

When the public is told that it can save $1 on a cotton dress at a sale, the premises are crowded next morning by ladies who frequently pull themselves apart trying to reach the bargains, whether they need a cotton dress or not. The Victory Loan is the best bargain ever invented but few people are trampled to death in the rush for it. Here is a chance to save your money instead of having it taken from you by taxes, or lost through inflation, which inevitably must follow the failure of the Victory Loan. And not only does the state offer to save you from these disasters, but is willing to pay you interest on its generosity.

The people of Canada should not need to be told about patriotism, and the necessity of winning the war, for they should know these things already. What they should be told is that no one is asking them to be generous in the Victory Loan. On the contrary, the state is offering to be generous to them; and when a Victory Loan salesman turns up he is doing the public the greatest possible favor.

NO LIFT

NEVERTHELESS, we need not expect to change the public manners of the Canadian people, whether we change their inward ideas or not. They will continue to have dead pans and haddock eyes. Apparently that is the way we work in this country. We have achieved a huge war program, we have become the fourth war producer among the United Nations, we have taken over the air training of the British nations, we have handled a third of the North Atlantic convoy, we have formed a substantial army, we have increased income taxes to the British level, we have devoted half of our energy and material to the war, but despite all this there is no general rejoicing in the country. Indeed, there is no general realization of what has been done. There is no lift, no inspiration.

Partly this is due to our government. We have a government of considerable ability, with some men who would be difficult to improve on, and some who are hardly fit to be a councillor in Saanich. But our government, for some reason, is unable to supply an ounce of inspiration. There isn't a cheer in a carload.

Mr. King himself has always shied away from such methods. He does not excel in them, he does not radiate human warmth in sufficient quantities to raise the thermometer visibly, and he does not try to, knowing his limitations. But even if he did, I wonder if it would work. Mr. Bennett used to be good at thermometer raising and often grew as warm as a radiator full of steam. But it didn't seem to do him any good. The public sat back on its chair in the dark pit of the theatre, row on row of haddocks, and if a faint cheer came from the darkness everyone felt embarrassed and ashamed, as if a horrid obscenity had been committed. We are like that, we Canadians. We are a well-mannered people, perhaps too well-mannered. A little more enthusiasm and a little less poise might be good for us.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"You know you do it on purpose—you let that cat out every day just to wreck our war dog training!"

Our Silent Service

In time of war the people of seaboard cities and towns have a vital trust to keep. Every day there passes before them dramatic evidence of a nation at war. Yet it is the duty of all to keep silent regarding what they have seen.

The government pleads with us for care in our speech. Everywhere placards beseech us to guard our conversation, and point out the possible consequences of an idle word. We share equal responsibility with the government in the matter of silence. The authorities have entered into no unfair conspiracy to keep us in the dark. Not only do we guard the lives of our seamen when we watch our tongues, but we help to win the war.

Below the horizon gallant men are waging a fight to the death against a ruthless and cunning enemy. By day and night our seamen pit their skill and bravery against a lurking foe, and the least we can do for them is to make sure that a fatal torpedo is not sent upon its deadly way because we have failed in our duty.

Careless talk can betray our sons, husbands and sweethearts to death and our country to defeat. Surely the stakes are too high to allow a transitory word to help the foe. The Battle of the Atlantic is one in which we can all serve.

The war is very close to us, but careless talk brings it much closer. Each one of us has a pledge to keep it much closer. Each one of us has a pledge to keep to the men who go down to the sea in ships. An old proverb says that "silence is golden." Today silence is more valuable than gold. Lives cannot be bought with gold, nor all the wealth of Midas restore a dead seaman to his loved ones.

What About Meat?

The Markets Information Section and the Economics Division of the Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Agricultural Branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics have issued the following statement regarding the meat situation:

In recent months customers arriving at meat counters in Canadian cities have not always been able to secure the type of cut desired, especially when the choice lay in the direction of beef or pork. Much has also been heard of a beef shortage, restrictions on domestic consumption of pork, and of late meat rationing has been suggested. The factors underlying these developments should therefore be clarified, and the true domestic supply situation outlined.

There have been two main reasons for the existence of the so-called "meat shortage." The first, which mainly applies to pork products, is the fact that progressively larger export commitments to the United Kingdom have been in effect in each of the three years of the war. In the second place, there has been a very substantial increase in the domestic demand for meats. This is attributable to increased employment in industry with consequent increased purchasing power in the hands of wage earners.

There have also been growing requirements for members of Canadian and Allied armed forces stationed within or near Dominion boundaries and for Allied vessels calling at Canadian ports. As a result, there is presently a much larger domestic market for meats in Canada than existed prior to the war, thus it is the demand which has grown rather than the supply which has diminished.

Farmers marketed more hogs and cattle, and only slightly fewer veal calves, sheep and lambs in the first eight months of 1942 compared with the same period a year ago and average slaughter weights of hogs and beef cattle have been considerably increased. In September, however, marketings fell off more sharply than usual, especially in the case of cattle. The supply of pork products for the domestic market has been curtailed since early in 1941 when Britain requested a speed-up in bacon shipments.

Although slaughtering in the current hog marketing year will run to nearly 6.5 million head, or double the prewar output, the huge bacon contract for 600,000,000 pounds has taken about 70 per cent of the available supply, and even so is several weeks behind schedule.

This restriction of pork distribution on the domestic market has shifted extra demands to other meats, and drains on beef stocks, especially in heavily-populated eastern centres, has been abnormally heavy.

This has been further accentuated by a sharp seasonal decrease in the late summer cattle marketings due mainly to a favorable feeding situation on farms and to optimism or uncertainty in the minds of producers as to future market prospects.

Feuding Beat Dodgers

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Ziggy Sears, basso profundo of the National League umpires' chorus, figures feuding probably cost the Brooklyn Dodgers this year's pennant.

Back home to start looking for a defence job after canceling his schedule of eastern pro football officiating, Sears drew the moral that overzealous feuding doesn't pay.

"Toward the last of the season," he pointed out, perking his thumb from habit, "most of the other players in the league were living for a chance to beat the Dodgers. The managers saved good pitchers and the boys came up with plays and ran bases like champs."

WAR—25 YEARS AGO TODAY

Oct. 22, 1917—British and French troops advanced on either side of the Ypres-Staden railway, northeast of Ypres. British airmen bombed Zebrugge Mole and Melle railway sidings near Ghent, Belgium. Petrograd reported 16 German vessels sunk in the Gulf of Riga.

2 Trials in Trial In Assize Court

Completing one trial within a trial shortly after the luncheon adjournment Tuesday, the Assize Court wound up the afternoon by plunging into another as the trial of Leonard J. Simmons, former quartermaster for B.C. Police Stores, and Joseph Arthur Walsh, managing director of Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd., charged with conspiracy to defraud the government, continued.

Mr. Justice Sidney Smith, presiding, ruled evidence admissible in the first instance. It had drawn objection from P. J. Sinnott, counsel for Mr. Simmons, who contended the subject, a conversation between Mr. Simmons, John Harvey, deputy comptroller-general for B.C., and the comptroller-general, had not been proved free from threat, enticement or supposition of impending arrest. After the latter pair had testified, with the jury excluded, the presiding judge ruled the matter simply a question of routine procedure and authorized its submission to the jury.

The jury then heard Mr. Harvey testify he had asked Mr. Simmons for an explanation of increased police costs and had received back a general memorandum which he considered unsatisfactory.

Mr. Harvey said he had been instructed to make a physical check of goods and equipment in store and had undertaken an examination of the stock book which was supposed to record receipt of goods from supply sources and their distribution as issue. In that examination, witness said, he had found records of vouchers for purchase of boots, but no record of receipt of the footwear in the stock book.

Over the objection of defence counsel, the court ruled admissible certain documents covering deals with both Cathcart's and Jas. Maynard Ltd. They were admitted to show a step in calculation, Mr. Justice Smith ruled.

ENTRIES OMITTED

Mr. Harvey gave evidence on a conference with Mr. Simmons regarding the omission of entries from the stock book covering receipts and said he was told some goods were sent direct to police divisions and to Oakalla Jail. There had been no records to prove direct shipments, witness said.

Mr. Harvey testified he had found other errors in the stock book and police accounting system.

He had visited Mr. Walsh at the shoe company store and had told him the records of the quartermaster were not clear on certain deliveries from Cathcart's, witness said.

Mr. Harvey said he had left a list of invoices with Mr. Walsh and had been promised a report on them when Mr. Walsh told him he did not have receipts available. He had received no information on subsequent visits, he said.

As a further document was presented by Crown Prosecutor W. C. Moresby, K.C., Joseph McKenna, counsel for Mr. Walsh, rose to object, suggesting it was a matter for another trial within a trial. His suggestion was accepted and the case was adjourned for the day.

Crown Brand Syrup in addition to its other uses, is being to generally used to supplement sugar, that the demand has increased tremendously — so that sometimes your grocer may not be able to supply you. But you'll understand why.

A great deal more "Crown Brand" is being produced this year but it cannot be expected to meet a demand resulting from a war shortage of millions of pounds of sugar.

The supply of Crown Brand Syrup, like other things, must be shared. Don't hoard — buy normally. With the help of your grocer, every effort is being made to keep you supplied with this delicious syrup.

Invents Wireless Set Secret and Jam-proof

WASHINGTON—A method of sending secret wireless messages that cannot be jammed by the enemy is described in U.S. patent 2,298,562. The inventor is Francis Charles Pierre Henroteau of Ottawa, Canada.

Jamming wireless signals or a radio program is quite easy. All the malevolent spirit has to do is to send out a wave of precisely the same frequency as that on which the message is being sent, and howls and whistles in the receivers make it unintelligible. This can be done, the inventor states, with any of the secret message systems so far proposed except those using ultra-high frequency, and these are not of great value because of their short range.

His method of avoiding jam and still maintaining secrecy is to distort the sending wave by means of what he calls a key plate, which varies the frequency of the wave in an irregular way according to a pattern on the plate. A similar key plate at the receiving end removes the distortion. If an enemy should happen to find out the pattern being used, the key plates can be changed.

The sending wave cannot be jammed in this system because the enemy would have to vary the frequency of his wave in precisely the same way.

OIL FOR HEAVY PRESSURE

How to produce noncorrosive lubricating oils for use where pressures between the bearing surfaces rise to more than five tons to the square inch, is told by Carl F. Prutton of East Cleveland, Ohio, in U.S. patent 2,298,636 awarded him. The rights have been assigned to the Lubri-Zol Corporation of Cleveland.

High pressure lubricants are usually corrosive, the inventor states, in fact depend on chemical action between the oil and metal to prevent seizure and scoring of the bearing surfaces. But he has found that certain halogen carbon compounds, particularly chlorinated compounds, inhibit this corrosive action without destroying the high pressure qualities of the lubricant. The action seems to be to form a protective film on the metal which prevents electrolytic action to which the corrosion is due.

His new "inhibitors" can be used to make new high pressure oils or to improve existing ones.

NEW GLASS-TO-METAL SEAL

The problem of making a vacuum-tight seal between metal and glass, such as for the lead-in wires of an electron tube, received a new solution in the invention of George Robert Shaw of Verona, N.J., who is the recipient of U.S. patent 2,298,974. He has assigned the rights to the Radio Corporation of America.

The new method permits use of a metal having a very different heat expansion from that of the glass. All previous methods have sought to find a metal having the same expansion, platinum, nickel-steel, or to develop a glass that would have the same expansion as the metal.

The inventor impregnates or coats the metal with gas producing substance. When heated in the sealing process, the gas is generated and fills the glass near the surface with bubbles. This forms a sort of cushion between the metal and the more solid glass beyond.

Says Malta Beat Off Small Invasion Forces

LISBON (CP-Reuters)—Rt. Rev. Harold J. Buxton, Bishop of Gibraltar, said here today there had been "minor attempts" to invade Malta. He did not amplify the statement.

He disclosed also that Prime Minister Churchill had visited Gibraltar and traveled through the stronghold in a "black maria" in order to keep his visit a secret.

(Presumably the Prime Minister's visit to the Rock was made in the course of his journey across the Mediterranean when he went to Moscow to see Stalin.) The bishop came to Lisbon after a tour of British military outposts in the Mediterranean, during which he spent three months at Malta.

Choose the correct grind: drip grind for glass vacuum or drip makers. Regular grind for percolator or coffee pot. Keep coffee in can tightly covered. Measure both water and coffee carefully. Use fresh cold water and bring to full boil. Make only what you wish to serve. One good cup is worth two inferior ones. Keep your coffee maker clean.

Troops' Art Work To Tour Canada

In order to give army, air force and navy artists incentive to work for, and an opportunity to display their paintings, the British Columbia Region of the Federation of Canadian Artists is promoting one of the first exhibitions of its kind to be held in the west.

The federation has invited all men and women in uniform in the active and reserve services, who paint or draw, either as a profession or a hobby, to contribute sketches for an exhibition to be held in the Vancouver Art Gallery early in the New Year.

There are no restrictions as to size or medium used. Sketches should preferably be mounted on cardboard mats, but if these are not available mounting will be taken care of after sketches arrive at the Art Gallery.

Subject is entirely a matter of choice—portraits, landscapes, designs, caricatures, impressions of life afloat, ashore, or in the air, are equally acceptable.

The sketches will not be subject to selection by a jury — all work that does not go beyond the limits of good taste will be included in the exhibition at Vancouver. Later, a selection of the best paintings and drawings will be chosen to be sent east for inclusion in a Dominion-wide exhibition which will tour Canada next year.

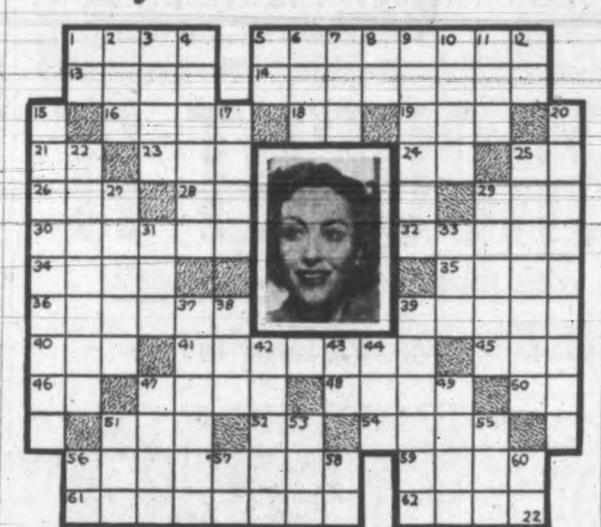

Sketches sent in should bear the artist's name, rank and address for identification purposes but they will not be returned unless a request to this effect is made.

All sketches should be addressed, not later than Jan. 30, 1943, to the Vancouver Art Gallery, 1145 West Georgia Street, Vancouver, B.C.

$1 an Hour Wage For Carpenters

Signing of a two-year agreement with the Victoria Builders' Exchange calling for a rate of pay of $1 an hour was reported to the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council by the Carpenters' Union agent at the council's meeting Wednesday night.

That announcement followed lengthy discussion of the transportation question in which Ald. W. L. Morgan answered questions and criticism levelled at him by workers in the transportation field.

Critics had deplored the lack of labor representation at meetings of the transportation committee of which the alderman is chairman.

Ald. Morgan said he was ready at any time to reconvene the committee to meet any responsible group wishing to meet the committee.

E. F. Fox of the B.C. Electric Street Railwayman's Union, termed deplorable the practice by which heads of local transportation companies were invited to meetings of the committee and workers left without representation in the discussions.

Ald. Morgan expressed regret, saying he was, as chairman, trying to carry out instructions laid down by S. Sigmundson, regional transit controller.

Support for their attempts to secure better working conditions was sought by a delegation from the B.C. Electric car barns.

The council endorsed a special brief from its postwar rehabilitation committee embodying sweeping recommendations relative to finance, natural resources, public utilities, national health and unemployment schemes, housing, a 30-hour working week and war disability and old-age pensions.

Fire prevention experts list three classes of fires: Fires in ordinary combustibles such as straw, clothing, rubbish; fires in highly combustible materials such as gasoline, kerosene, oils; fires in or around electrical equipment on which there is a dangerous voltage.

War Workers Merit Good Food

How to feed the war workers has become an important question in thousands of Canadian homes. Our first suggestion is going to be something you may feel that you, personally, can do nothing about. But don't dismiss it on that account. You alone may feel helpless. But you and your friends, and your friends' friends are public opinion; which can still do plenty.

So the first suggestion is that all war workers in a good-sized plant should be sold at cost one good, nutritious meal during his working period, whatever that is. Surveys conducted by "Nutrition Services" show that industrial workers' meals served by a plant-operated cafeteria on a no-profit basis are far better than those served by concession cafeterias. Agitation by a workers' committee might rectify the situation if it's wrong in your plant.

And another thing, for those very necessary between-meal snacks, the best and most telling stimulants are milk, fruit juices (and that includes tomato juice), or cocoa—no soft drinks. It is inconceivable that a general demand for milk or fruit juices, in place of soft drinks, would be ignored.

Now if your plant isn't one of the ideal ones—and some of them are, you know—some plants serve the sort of meals mother simply didn't know enough to produce; but if yours isn't one of them you'll have to fall back on the lunch box.

Here are some rules that will make that lunch-box meal a proper one.

1. See that it contains these three ingredients—protein, a vegetable (not potato) or fruit and milk. Vegetables, fruit and milk won't give you any trouble. And neither will protein if you remember that our best sources of protein are—meat, fish, eggs, cheese and dried vegetables (like beans).

2. A thermos flask of hot soup or cocoa may just hit the spot. This is purely a matter of taste. The necessity of one hot dish has been shown in recent experiments to be just another superstition. But if your war worker likes one, it obeys rule two, which is palatability.

3. Arrange for the lunch box meal to be as fresh as possible. Don't make it up the night before. And do wrap everything carefully in wax paper to prevent drying.

Another tip—be sure your sandwich fillings are moist but not wet. Avoid soggy sandwiches on the one hand and dry ones on the other. Use whole wheat bread.

Navy Chief at Veterans' Party

Naval veterans with records of service dating back to the China Seas in 1880, to the Solomon Islands, half a century ago, young striplings just getting their sea legs at H.M.C.S. Naden, lower deck ratings and the two top men in the Canadian navy gathered Wednesday night to celebrate Trafalgar Day.

Naval Minister Angus Macdonald, Vice-Admiral P. W. Nelles, Chief of the Naval Staff, Commodore W. J. R. Beech, commanding officer, Pacific coast and their respective aides were guests of honor at the affair, a smoking concert given by the Victoria Branch of the Naval Veterans in their quarters. The gold-braided dignitaries were completely at their ease and enjoyed a full hour of the informal festivity.

Introduced by President George Renton, Naval Minister Macdonald after congratulating the veterans on their work on behalf of the navy and naval veterans paid a tribute to what he called the unsung heroes of the war, the men of the merchant marine. In three years of war, he said, they had taken 11,000 ships carrying from 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 tons of goods across the Atlantic.

GROWTH OF NAVY

The Canadian navy itself, he said, had grown beyond all belief. Its strength now was nearly 500,000 men which was half the strength of the British navy before the war.

"I am sorry to say that in the peace years our navy and those of all the democratic countries were allowed to go down to almost nothing. It was a tremendous mistake which I hope will never be repeated," he said.

"The most important line in the world today is the Atlantic line to Europe. If it breaks, I shudder to think what the consequences will be to the world. Air power is not yet at the strength to make navies useless. We must still have ships to carry our goods across the seas and we must have a navy to protect them."

Vice-Admiral Nelles paid tribute to Mr. Macdonald for his insistence upon establishing the naval college at Royal Roads which the two had officially opened Wednesday morning.

"Please God we'll keep it open this time," he said. "There will come a day, not in our time most likely, that aircraft will take over our job. Meanwhile we must have ships and men to run them."

The naval college, he said, would train men not only for the navy but for the merchant marine.

"I hope and believe that after this war we shall be one of the greatest producing and exporting countries and it is up to us to see that we build up a navy so big that they can't wash it out or so big that they can cut it in half and still leave us enough to carry on with."

$17,992.30 PAID OUT

George Renton, president of the club, reported on the year's work.

A total of $17,992.30 had been spent since last Trafalgar Day, he said. Completion of the Legion Building at Comox had cost $2,750, other outlays being:

King George's Fund for sailors, $900; Rainbow Sea Cadets, $1,000; Lord Mayor of London Fund for air raid sufferers, $250; Canadian Legion Mobile Surgical

Unit for Victoria, $850; assistance to dependants of naval men lost in the present war and to various ex-service men and their dependants, $1,000; purchase of a lot in Esquimalt as site for a Sailors' Home, $500; purchase of Victory Bonds, $10,000.

Commodore Beech said the naval veterans had an important part to play in guiding young sailors away from the pitfalls they themselves had encountered. The three oldest veterans of the club, J. Archer, enlisted 1880; T. Collins, 1889 and H. Smith, 1886, were introduced to the naval minister and the admiral and received congratulations on their record of service.

E. S. Mitchell, City Purchasing Agent, was another link between past and present to attend the concert. He was aboard the barque-rigged gunboat H.M.S. Rabbit when she put a party ashore on the Solomon Islands in 1892 to disarm the then hostile natives.

Artists taking part were the Naval Veterans' Orchestra: T. Crabbe, J. Watson, B. White, "Buster" Brown, R. Stofor, B. Goodmurphy and J. Collins. The concert was organized by J. Petricrew, H. R. Dawe acting as chairman.

New Cabinet Governs Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Joaquin Fernandez, Chilean ambassador to Uruguay, accepted today the post of foreign minister after German Riesco, who previously had accepted, declined the office a few hours before he had been expected to be sworn in.

Francisco Solar, Radical, who was sworn in as minister of commerce Wednesday night, resigned after the central governing board of his party had refused him permission to accept the post, and Gen. Follan Arriagada was chosen to replace him.

Fernandez, the new foreign minister, succeeded Ernesto Barros Jarpa, chief advocate of continuing relations with Germany, Italy and Japan, as a result of a cabinet shake-up which had been widely demanded by pro-democratic groups.

There was no definite indication of an immediate change in international policy, but reappointment of Interior Minister Paul Morales, Radical Party member who initiated police measures against German espionage, is regarded by observers as significant.

President Rios swore in 11 of the 12 members of his new cabinet Wednesday night. He issued a statement saying his purpose is to keep Chile on the side of all nations on the continent and to defend to the utmost "the great principles of territorial integrity and American solidarity."

"Mummie, why do men shoot each other?"

THESE youngsters of ours are full of surprises, aren't they. And sometimes they ask you pretty searching questions, don't they? Questions that rock you with their penetrating simplicity: Questions like: "Mummie, why do men shoot each other?"

Well, try and answer that question yourself. Get right down to bedrock. We're fighting to keep brutality away from these youngsters. We're fighting to make sure of a world in which these same youngsters can live and laugh and love. We're fighting to beat the idea of a slave-ridden, colorless, inhuman world.

And it's up to all of us to ask ourselves, searchingly, "Are we fighting as hard as we can?" Many of us, for various reasons, can't actually fight. But all of us can work, save and lend—and the thing we must be certain of is that we are doing just those things to the limit of our powers. Are you? When you answer that question you'll buy the new Victory Bonds even though it hurts.

And don't forget, that by scrimping now to buy Victory Bonds, you'll have money put aside in the safest place in the world to purchase let us say, a new car—or a new home—when we've won the war.

Child Protection System of B.C. Is Praised

British Columbia's child adoption legislation received praise from Dr. Charlotte Whitton in the third of her series of lectures at the Empress Hotel Wednesday evening. She was speaking on the subject of "The Child Protection System of the Canadian Provinces."

This legislation was distinctively Canadian, she said, originating in Ontario in 1883. The basic agency was the Children's Aid Society or the provincial superintendent of welfare acting as Children's Aid Society in unorganized territory. While six provinces in Canada have adoption legislation as advanced as anywhere in the world, only British Columbia, Manitoba and Ontario are effectively administering it.

After outlining the main lines on which the fortification of child life must be built, Dr. Whitton showed the necessity of legal safeguards. Decent standards of social relations, decent marriage laws, must be sought in the Criminal Code provision, which should also provide maintenance for their dependents, and, in the civil provisions of the provinces, to allow the collection of maintenance from men who deserted their wives or children. All of these provisions had been made by the provinces, she noted.

Insistence of effective school attendance provisions, prohibition of child labor, the fixing of minimum age limits for child labor and of the conditions under which children might go into mines, factories, shops, offices, street trades, night employment and the maximum hours weekly that a child was allowed to work, all these were necessary to guard the child against economic exploitation, the speaker maintained.

She also showed how mothers' allowances, legislation dealing with unmarried parent problems, and adoption legislation were all auxiliary to child protection.

H. C. Hall, juvenile court magistrate, presided at last night's meeting, and announced that Dr. Whitton's lecture series under the Council of Social Agencies auspices would conclude this evening with a discussion of "The integration of our delinquency and protection services: Is the answer courts in social causes?"

Miss Yrma Mitchell Becomes Bride of Lt. Mark McClung

Two well-known families were united by the quiet ceremony at First United Church today at noon, when Rev. Hugh McLeod solemnized the marriage of Yrma, younger daughter of Mrs. E. H. Mitchell, of Gordon Head, and the late Mr. Edward Hamilton Mitchell, to Lieut. Mark McClung, R.C.N.V.R., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McClung of Gordon Head.

Chrysanthemums and gladioli were used in decoration of the church, the bride's tailored suit of blue Lovat worsted in Island weave, and brown, off-the-face hat and matching brown accessories, reflecting the autumn color motif. A topcoat of brown broadtail and a corsage bouquet of mauve orchids complemented her ensemble.

Mr. George H. Peaker, at the organ, played the Mendelssohn Wedding March as the bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. There were no attendants.

Immediately following the ceremony the young couple left for Ottawa where the groom is with the Naval Intelligence, and where they will make their home.

DORLAND—MUNDELL

The marriage took place recently between Isable Mary, elder daughter of Mrs. M. I. Mundell and the late Mr. Mundell, and Mr. Frank E. Dorland, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Dorland, Edgerton, Alta., at the home of the bride's mother, 734 Caledonia Avenue, with Rev. H. W. Kerley officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her brother and was attractive in a floor-length gown of white triple sheer with matching fingertip veil held in place with orange blossoms. Her bouquet consisted of Sweetheart roses, pink and white carnations and white heather. Her only sister, Elizabeth, was bridesmaid, in a becoming floor-length gown of blue triple sheer. She carried chrysanthemums, carnations and mauve heather. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Frank Beckley.

At the reception Mrs. Mundell received in a plum ensemble with black accessories and was assisted by Mrs. J. Beckley in a brown ensemble with black accessories. Both wore corsage bouquets of roses. Baskets of gladioli, carnations and roses decorated the rooms. The table was covered with a Chinese lace cloth, arranged with white tapers in silver holders and centred with a two-tier wedding cake.

For a honeymoon trip up-Island the bride wore a blue crepe dress, topped by a black imported wool coat with rust accessories. The bride and groom will make their home in Victoria.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. E. M. McPhail, Mr. G. Pratt and Pte. B. Mundell, all of Vancouver, and Cpl. H. Mundell of Nanaimo.

At Wilkinson Road United Church Wednesday evening Rev. W. Allan united in marriage Jessie Edna, younger daughter of Mr. Frank Ritz and the late Mrs. Ritz of Burnside, and Cpl. Phillip Charles Basham, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Basham of Westbank, B.C. The church was decorated with flowers by the Young People's Society of which the bride was a popular member. Mr. D. W. Phillips presided at the organ and the hymn "O Perfect Love" was sung by the congregation.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown, the full net skirt ending in a short train. Her veil was caught with orange blossom and she carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and carnations. Mrs. A. E. Burkholder, her sister, was matron of honor, in petal pink net, and the bridesmaid was Miss Muriel Branigan, in powder blue net. Their halo hats had matching shoulder-length veils, and they carried bouquets of carnations and chrysanthemums. Pte. A. E. Burkholder was groomsmen, with Messrs. Jack Ritz and John Smith as ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. The guests were received by Miss Helen A. Ritz, aunt of the bride, in a navy and white ensemble, assisted by Mrs. J. A. Cabbage Cooking
To Lose Its Odor

NEW YORK (AP)—A new chemical compound, a universal smell-killer, is announced by two chemists, Dr. Jas. H. Dalbey and R. Walter H. Eddy, the famous nutritionist.

No smell among hundreds has escaped. The new stuff has wiped out the scent of skunk and the smell of stink-bomb. It has removed all trace of putrefaction odors.

Kitchen odors of cooking cabbage and frying fish have vanished. Hospitals have used it without a misfire. Dog pounds have been given a fresh-air atmosphere. Fish markets and butcher shops have used it.

The chemical is harmless to human tissues but it literally kills the smells. It destroys them by burning them with oxygen as they float in the air. It does not stop the source of smell, but only the gas which is the actual smell.

The chemical is a powder and is used by adding water. In the case of the cabbage on the kitchen stove, it is enough to set a pan of the liquid on the stove and let it simmer.

Axis Supply Lines In Egypt Bombed

CAIRO (AP)—The R.A.F. hammered at advanced Axis air-dromes, supply dumps and communication lines in the desert Wednesday, keeping the enemy air force on the defensive and shooting down three fighter planes, a communique announced today.

While the major aerial activity was centred over forward areas, long-range fighters also swept along the coastal road between Gambut and Sidi Barrani, strafing trucks bearing vital supplies of ammunition and gasoline to the front, the bulletin said.

These daylight activities followed up a night assault by R.A.F. bombers on the Axis supply port of Tobruk and other targets in the enemy rear.

Three planes were lost in the course of all these operations. Enemy activity over Malta Wednesday was reported confined to fighter and fighter-bomber operations, during which one Italian plane was shot down by British fighters without loss.

ITALIAN CLAIMS

ROME (From Italian Broadcasts, AP)—The Italian high command asserted today that an aerial battle over the Egyptian desert Tuesday involving 200 planes on each side cost Britain 55 aircraft against a loss of 11 by the Axis.

"In other actions we have lost two planes, while 15 were more or less seriously damaged," it said.

The high command said eight British planes were shot down by fighters Wednesday and four others by anti-aircraft fire, while one Italian plane failed to return. (Cairo has announced British losses Tuesday in all phases of the expanding Mediterranean action as 12 aircraft. Eleven Axis planes were shot down that day, Cairo stated.)

ESQUIMALT Y.P.S.

Esquimalt Young People met Monday evening, with Marjorie Peady presiding. At the conclusion of the business meeting, Cliff Batstone, assisted by Margaret Walker, Eleanor Brook, Jean Adams and Lorraine Caruthers, gave a description of "A Day at Camp." Refreshments followed by a singing concluded the meeting. The singing this Sunday will be held at the home of Marjorie Peady. The meeting next week will be a social evening.

Veteran Rear Gunner Likes Job

VETERAN AIR GUNNER SAYS LIFE 'PLEASANT'—"It's a lot of bunk about the gunner being the goat of a bomber team," says P.O. Donald A. McLeod of Edmonton, Alberta, who recently exceeded the 200-hour total of operational trips in that job. "If I were starting all over again, I'd still be a gunner." P.O. McLeod is pictured above, as a Flt. Sgt., with his commanding officer, two of his teammates, and a man who plays on the same "team" but never leaves the ground. Chatting with Group Capt. Walker, D.S.O., D.F.C. (extreme right), the R.A.F. commander of the station, they are, (left to right): Flt. Sgt. George Halero, Ottawa; Flt. Sgt. Ken Methal, Edmonton, the English "mets" or meteorological official on the station and Flt. Sgt. (now P.O.) McLeod. The picture was taken just after McLeod, Halero and Methal returned from a raid. (R.C.A.F. official photo.)

If you want to hear the truth about the much-maligned job of tail-gunner in a bomber, ask P.O. Donald A. McLeod of Edmonton, who a few days ago exceeded the 200-hour total in his operational trips, and was rewarded with a commission and an instructional job at an operation training unit.

"It's about time," says McLeod, "that people quit talking this bunk about the gunner being the goat of the crew, with nothing to look forward to but a short life and a miserable one. For one thing, his chances are every bit as good as the pilot and the rest of the crew, and if he knows his job and does it well, his life on operations can be reasonably pleasant as well as exciting. Personally, if I were starting 'ops' all over again with a clear choice, I'd still be a gunner."

One of the most popular members of an R.C.A.F. medium bomber squadron led by Wing Cmdr. Don Ferris, also of Edmonton, McLeod speaks as one who has been through his full share of excitement and danger and who after many trips over enemy territory—including "daylights"—is still happy, healthy and keen. He has had several escapes so narrow that they "shook him to the core," but he gives the credit to his fellow-members of the crack teams with which he has flown either as wireless-operator-air-gunner, or in the rear-gunner's position.

HOTTEST TRIPS

McLeod, who before the war was a railway telegrapher with the C.P.R. and a member of the signaling corps in the reserve army, counts his seventh and 13th trips as his "hottest."

"On the seventh trip," he recalls, "we were attacking Kiel when a whopping great burst of flak right under our aircraft threw us completely over on our back and we went into a screaming dive toward the Kiel Estuary below. We were only a bare 30 feet above the water when the pilot, Flt. Sgt. George Halero of 473 Kent Street, Ottawa, pulled out of the dive. It was a marvelous job on Harcro's part. But we still weren't out of the woods. As we started to climb again, we found ourselves smack on top of an enemy flak ship that was throwing everything at us except the anchor. Our navigator, Ken Methal, was hit by a chunk of flak that came into the fuselage, but it buried itself in his parachute and he wasn't hurt."

PLANE TURNS TURTLE

The 13th trip, on which McLeod's pilot was Flt. Sgt. (later P.O.) Robert Clothier of 1121 West 27th Avenue, Vancouver, was almost an exact parallel of the seventh. This time the target was Mannheim, and once again the bomber was thrown over on its back by a flak burst and went into a headlong dive before pulling out. McLeod recalls that on this trip the pilot took such violent evasive action that the entire crew arrived home thoroughly air-sick—something that they thought they had outgrown at E.F.T.S.

On another occasion McLeod had the shaking experience of finding himself caught over an enemy flak ship. This time his pilot was Flt. Sgt. Dan Allen of Lennoxville, Quebec, and again they got away with it.

McLeod's last trip, on which he ran over the important 200-hour mark, was a bit of an anti-climax in the form of a comparatively uneventful operation. Again he flew with one of the crack crews of the squadron, including the youthful veteran Flt. Lt. William Clifford Sanderson of Luff, Saskatchewan. Flt. Sgt. Welland Newman of Arnprior, Ont., and Sgt. Norval Dale Lewis of Assiniboia, Saskatchewan—all of whom have piled up imposing totals of hours and excellent operational records.

P.O. McLeod, who at 26 is slightly above the average for R.C.A.F. air-crew age, graduated in a wireless class at Calgary on April 25, 1941, and completed his training at Mossbank, coming overseas in June of that year. A brother, Bill, is a machinist aboard a Royal Canadian Navy destroyer.

A variety of well-known vocal and instrumental recordings of popular light classical music was the basis of the program put on by the culture committee at the First United Young People's Union Tuesday evening. A short introduction showing the relationship between culture and the other phases of the young people's program, namely citizenship, fellowship and missions, was given. A musical "quiz" was directed by Nan Wilson. The business meeting, conducted by the president, to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Thayer, 313 Arnot Street, next Tuesday at 7.45, which will be very informal and plans for a good time are being arranged by the committee in charge. Miss June Dunn was unanimously elected secretary. Patty Swain led in the closing devotional, after which the Mizpah benediction was repeated.

Anne Wilson, Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. James Dickson, Upper Terrace, recently, with Mrs. C. R. Westwood presiding. The Scripture was read by Mrs. John Walker. An informative talk was given by Mrs. J. W. Graham, president of Presbyterian, on missionary work and its justification. A social half hour was spent with Mrs. D. L. Bowers presiding at the urns.

By PETE SALLAWAY

FROM all indications the calibre of hockey offered Victorians this winter by clubs of the new Island senior league will rate with the finest in the country. We wonder if the local followers realize just how fortunate they are to be able to sit in on first-class hockey. Leagues have folded all over the Dominion owing to the locale of players and entries. This city is fortunate in having the three services located here in sufficient numbers to enable them to organize top-notch hockey units in addition to a number one hockey town only a few miles distant—Nanaimo.

On top of that the Victoria Machinery Depot has seen fit to supply another club embracing players of recognized ability. It has been one of the finest sports breaks this town has ever experienced and hockey should hit a new peak in crowd appeal. Announcement Wednesday of the players to appear with the Army club is a first-class example of just how the services are determined to put the league over. Previously the Navy had come forth with a club of high-ranking players and we know the R.C.A.F. will be right in there with a first-class outfit. As a matter of fact the Flyers received some nice bolstering this week with the arrival at Pat Bay of seven players. More are reported on the way and the airman will not have to take a back seat to any of the clubs in the five-team circuit.

There is one chap really enthusiastic about the Army's chances to win the championship. We refer to Elmer Kreller, star forward of last year's Bapcos, who will do all his hockey playing this season with the Army.

"We have the finest bunch of forwards in the league right now and with that scoring punch we're a cinch," Kreller said as he proudly gave us the tip-off that Nick Metz was in the city.

In the mail today was a newsy letter from George Gordon, former president of the Victoria and District Basketball Association, and now associated with the Y.M.C.A. War Services in England. Gordon writes as follows: "In spite of the rationing I am still getting through a fair number of copies of the Times. It is quite interesting to be able to keep some track of the goings-on at home when you are so far away."

"By the time you get this I guess the good, old Victoria and Vancouver basketball battles will be getting started. Some little while ago we had the Canadian Forces track and field championships and it was quite interesting to renew acquaintances with a lot of Victoria boys, especially Hank Rowe. Leading up to the championships involved a tremendous amount of competition through the units, brigades, etc., but we managed to put over the meet with a great degree of success. If you see any of my former friends in Victoria give them my fondest regards."

Gordon sent along a copy of the program for the championships, which were held at Alder shot, Aug. 15. Curiously enough the name of Hank Rowe appears in the entries for the running high jump but Rowe never participated. The Victoria boy, who received such a rousing welcome back to Victoria Tuesday, was preparing for his trip to Dieppe, just four days later.

Boost Six-Man Football

By CHARLES EDWARDS

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Rugby Union's six man football committee, headed by J. B. Flitton of Toronto, is distributing without charge an official rule book for the six-man game, adaptable for the small school or town which has insufficient playing material or equipment for a 12-man team. The game is popular with the armed forces.

In its introduction the rule book says: "Six-man football is a game that provides on a smaller scale all the thrills and excitement of the regular game, yet it trains the player in fundamentals and rudiments of rugby. Every boy becomes adept at ball handling, passing, receiving, and tackling because he does more of each. He learns to play the different position. In this way he becomes more alert and eager. On the other hand, it has proved to be less hazardous because of the lack of personal contact and rough line play."

In general C.R.U. rules prevail. A major difference in the six-man game is that on all ball-carrying plays, the player who receives the ball from the snap must pass on side to a teammate before crossing the line of scrimmage except on forward pass plays. The aim is for open play. The trend is to prevent injury and it is suggested all players wear tennis or basketball shoes instead of cleats.

SMALLER FIELD

The six-man field is only 40 yards wide but may vary from 80 to 110 yards in length compared with the regular standard of 65 by 110 yards. Ten-minute quarter periods are recommended instead of the regulation 15-minute quarters. The offensive team must have at least three players on the line of scrimmage and a team may use four substitute players. The accepted playing positions are a snap, two wings, two halves and a quarter-back.

Vic (Timmins Press) Cope reports Timmins and Kirkland Lake hope to have Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League play exhibition games in the two northern Ontario towns—at Leaf's camp in St. Catharines, Ont., coach Happy Day worked out in his old defence post to fill a gap caused by training this season with the Army.

Open Rugby Play Here Oct. 31

Saturday, Oct. 31, will see the start of the 1942-43 rugby season in Victoria as R.A.F. tackles the Army fifteen at Macdonald Park. Game time is 2:30. On the following Saturday the Navy will meet the British airmen.

This was decided at a meeting Wednesday evening of the Victoria Rugby Union. The trend at present is toward an all-service league with the remote possibility that the B.A.A. will still field a team.

Navy, Naval College, Army and R.A.F. are all ready for the coming season and the battle for the Barnard Cup, emblematic of city supremacy.

There is also the possibility of an intermediate league being formed and the union will come to some decision on this at the next meeting, Wednesday. By the time of the next meeting all senior entries must be filed.

Army and Navy representatives attending the meeting said the annual Armistice Day match for the Remembrance Day Cup would be played at Macdonald Park, Nov. 11, at 3.

Rich Daily Double

SAN MATEO, Cal. (AP)—The daily double at Bay Meadows paid off at $1,817.70 on a $2 ticket Wednesday. Three ticket-holders cashed in.

A longshot, Bay Tree Girl, won the opening race, with jockey Billy Woodhouse up. The pay board read $232 to win, $83.70 to place, $42.10 to show.

Strombus won the second race, paying $11.50, $4.90 and $3.70.

U.C.L.A. Stops California

After returning a kickoff 14 yards, California's left halfback Gene Pickett, hits the dust from an effective break tackle by determined Bill Armstrong, U.C.L.A. centre. No. 17, ready to help Armstrong, is Jack Finlay, U.C.L.A. tackle. U.C.L.A. won, 21 to 0.

Major Hockey Gossip

Rangers Good Shots

Lester Patrick hasn't given out figures on how many goals his New York Rangers have scored in training drills, but there's nothing wrong with the shooting eyes of Clint Smith, Bryan Hextall and Alf Pike. The trio went duck-hunting Wednesday and bagged 28 birds between them.

Incidentally, Rangers are expected to break camp at Winnipeg Tuesday. They will play a final practice game in Toronto before their National League opener with Toronto Maple Leafs Oct. 31.

The 1942-43 training season will be memorable for many things—notably the changes wrought by the manpower shortage. Montreal Canadiens added one of the better stories Wednesday night. The shortage of help at Verdun auditorium was so acute the players had to go on their scrap and pour on gallons of water for the new ice surface.

LEAFS GET SERIOUS

When Coach Happy Day said Leafs would get "down to cases" this week he wasn't fooling. Douglas (Red) Garrett, the spectacular 18-year-old rookie defenseman from Toronto Marlboro juniors, came out swinging Wednesday against Oscar Aubuchon of Bun Cook's Providence Reds. Leafs farm club. The boys were parted before any serious damage was inflicted.

Railbirds at the Leafs St. Catharines, Ont., training camp says Day's third line may comprise Gaye Stewart and Norman (Bud) Folle of Fort William and Johnny Conlek, ace right wing with Hamilton Majors of the senior A Ontario Association last season. Stewart has been going along exceptionally well in training spins.

Leafs have lost three players to the armed forces in two days. Jack Ladds of Timmins, Ont., Bud Evans of Milton, Ont., and Ken Dixon, star Jarossee player with Mimico Brampton Combines—but they're not the only team to suffer. Jack Macdonald, 190-pound, six-foot right wing last season with the Memorial Cup champions, Portage la Prairie Terriers, was ordered Wednesday to report for training with the R.C.A.F. Macdonald had been trying out with Rangers.

Arizonans See First Cricket

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Up until today cricket, to most Arizonans, was merely the name of a pesky insect that gnaws holes in a guy's best suit and attempts to cover up the crime with innocent chirps.

The more erudite westerners were aware that Englishmen played a game of rather vague description called cricket. A cup of tea somehow seemed associated with home plate—beg pardon, wicket.

But that sort of misunderrstanding is all past. Or is it? Cricket as a sport, came to Arizona Wednesday night. Not only was the match in the local baseball park and the first cricket most of the 300 spectators had seen, but it was believed to be the first ever played under lights anywhere.

PLAY 'INTERNATIONAL'

Cadets of the R.A.F. from nearby Falcon Field shed their sky blue flying uniforms and donned appropriate cricket raiment for an "international" between English and Scotch teams. The English won, 103 to 71, in one inning of three hours.

American spectators were politely restrained throughout the proceedings. They followed the multiplying score in a puzzled manner until a booming drive over the fence brought them to their feet with shouts of "a homer!"

They retired to their seats when the announcer advised that the batsman had just knocked "a full boundary." Anyway, it was good for six runs.

The Falcon Field wing commander added much light to the attractions of cricket when he explained: "In England the playing field is of beautiful green grass. Stately trees line the boundaries. There are beautiful women wearing those floppy hats. And we have tea."

That must be cricket.

On the Ropes

Maxie Shapiro's mouthpiece makes him appear quite the young savage as Referee Benny Leonard pushes New York lightweight away from Bob Montgomery, on ropes, in third stanza of 10-round upset in Philadelphia. Shapiro won split decision after three flooring and having home-town favorite helpless in third.

Little Baseball Trading Forecast

By HUGH FULLERTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Signs of the times: When Southwest Texas State went to Abilene for a football game with Abilene Christian, the contract specified that the home team had to furnish the visitors' transportation, both ways.

A lot of ball clubs may need rebuilding before next spring but don't look for much trading at the December meetings. Somebody asked Jim Gallagher, the Chicago Cubs' general manager, about trade prospects and he summed up the whole situation this way: "Who is going to sell a ball player not eligible for the draft? And who is going to buy one that is?"

C. M. Gibbs, Baltimore Sun: "Perhaps the war is changing everything. For instance, there was coach Frank Leahy, lying in a hospital. And his Notre Dame team shakes itself clear of the doldrums and stages the biggest upset of the season by defeating the Seahawks. And no one said anything about the Irish winning for good old Leahy, neither before nor after the game."

LIEUT. JOE PATRICK NOW

Now it's Cpl. Buddy Knox, the Dayton, O., heavyweight who is doing his fighting out of Bolling Field near Washington. . . . And Joe Patrick, former New York Rover hockey player and nephew of the Rangers' boss, Lester, has just been made a lieutenant at Fort Monmouth, N.J.

There's another Joe DiMaggio coming up as a big times sports performer. The Yankee slugger's 10-year-old nephew and namesake is champion of the junior section of the salesmen boys' club in San Francisco—at checkers. . . . Aldo Spick, the Italian boxer who was barred from rings in several states as an enemy alien, had to withdraw from a spot on the Cleveland card Tuesday because of a summons from his draft board. . . . Arthur Donovan, the fight referee, must have known what he was doing when he signed up with the maritime service. He is a graduate of the merchant marine academy's schoolship, Newport, and spent two years at sea. . . . and don't say anything about tankers.

Rickey Confers With Brooklyn Directors

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers' search for a president moved closer to a solution Wednesday with the appearance of Branch Rickey, vice-president of St. Louis Cardinals, for a conference with Brooklyn's board of directors.

The negotiations were surrounded in secrecy by both Rickey and the directors, but Rickey said he hoped "to know something definite within the next week."

There seemed to be sound reason for believing the position was Rickey's to accept or refuse, but it also was apparent that there still were obstacles to overcome.

Blood donors urgently needed. Beacon 2414.

Alsab, Shut Out Just Outsmarted

NEW YORK (AP)—The glamour boys of the three-year-olds, Alsab and Shut Out, were so intent on watching each other in the Gallant Fox Handicap Wednesday that a four-year-old filly who wasn't supposed to have a look-in stole the $11,300 pot from them.

She is Dark Discovery, a daughter of Discovery from the stable of John A. Bell Jr. This mile-and-five-eighths tussle was supposed to come close to deciding 1942's championship of the three-year-olds. In their previous get-togethers Shut Out had won the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes for Mrs. Payne Whitney and Alsab had grabbed off the Preakness for Mrs. Al Sabath.

Apparently Carroll Bierman, aboard Alsab, and Buddy Haas, who did the steering on Shut Out, were under orders to keep their eyes on each other.

OPENS FIVE LENGTHS

Through the first three-quarters of a mile they stayed well back. As the field of six headed into the clubhouse turn, Warren Mehrtens gave Dark Discovery her head and she shot out in front and opened a gap of five lengths on her nearest rivals. A half-mile from home, Bierman whipped the Sab and he started to move up, fast. He was only a length away at the head of the stretch, but from there on he couldn't gain an inch as the filly, apparently already tasting all the hay that $11,300 would buy, fought to hold her edge.

The $3,500 second money boosted Alsab's earnings to $335,825. Trailing the winner and Sab at the end was Marriage, two lengths back of Alsab.

Pike Proves Capable of Filling Gap

WINNIPEG (CP)—Lester Patrick, manager of New York Rangers in the National Hockey League, predicted today he would have one of the best defence lines in the N.H.L. this season.

This is because he has shifted Alf Pike, 25-year-old Winnipeg-born star, from a forward to a defenceman. Trying out for a defence spot also is Gordon Davidson, star with New York Rovers of the Eastern United States Amateur League last season.

Missing from last season's line-up are two defencemen, Bill Juzda, who has joined the R.C.A.F. and Art Coulter, now in the United States coast guard.

The conversion of a forward to a defenceman is not new for Patrick. Some years ago he shifted Ott Heller, a forward for many years, back to defence. Patrick's fourth defenceman is Babe Pratt, who has been making a great showing so far at the training camp here.

After almost a week's experience Patrick said Pike "really looks good and should develop into one of the best rearguards in the league."

Although Pike appears awkward on the ice, he breaks fast and has a sizzling left hand shot. He started his hockey career as a forward with Winnipeg Monarchs and was a member of that team when they won the Memorial Cup in 1937.

DETROIT SIGNS AMATEUR

DETROIT (CP)—Detroit Red Wings Wednesday signed Hubert (Bill) Quackenbush of Toronto to a National Hockey League contract and Manager Jack Adams said "we may take a chance" on the 18-year-old defenceman who played last season with Brantford Lions of the Junior A Ontario association.

Pat Egan, $16,000 acquisition from the defunct Brooklyn Americans, hasn't reported for training yet and may be unable to leave his job in a Vancouver, B.C. shipyard, so one defence job with Wings is wide open. Quackenbush, weighing 185 pounds and standing an inch short of six feet, will be given careful scrutiny in exhibition games by Adams and the Detroit board of strategy.

BROTHER FORWARD LINE

HIBBING, Minn. (CP)—Hockey fans on the big circuit will see something new in the way of brother act the coming season as manager Paul Thompson has his way.

Wednesday Doug Bentley reported to Thompson and in practice sessions Doug played left wing with brother Max at centre and brother Reg at right.

If Reg, who is a newcomer to major league ranks, can accumulate himself to the right-wing position new to him, hockey will see an entire forward string of brothers on the ice for the first time in the history of pro hockey.

After Wednesday's workout manager Thompson said that in all probability the Hawks would carry five defencemen: Tuten, Mattes, Carbol, Mitchell and Selbert.

Joe Paplike, right wing, who holds an important war production position here, was denied permission Wednesday to take two weeks off to practice with the Hawks. Paplike said he would hang up his skates for the duration.

N.H.L. Stars in Ottawa Ice Loop

OTTAWA (CP)—Sugar Jim Henry of Winnipeg, goaltender for New York Rangers of the National Hockey League last season, will be net-minder for the Canadian Military Staff Clerks team in the National Defence Hockey League here this winter.

The young Rangers' star was awarded to the staff clerks at a league meeting at which available former pro players were allotted to the various teams in the circuit. Previously it had been decided that each team must be limited to two former pros.

As it stands now, here's the line-up of ex-professionals among the teams: R.C.O.C., Paul (Polly) Drouin and Kenny Kilrea, both of Ottawa; R.C.A.S.C., Kenny Reardon of Winnipeg and Neil Colville of Edmonton; R.C.E., Joe Cooper and Alex Shibley, both Winnipeggers; C.M.S.C., Sugar Jim Henry; R.C.A.M.C., Mac Colville of Edmonton and Jack McGill.

you can't have hair like mine!"

It's so needless to think you can't have lovely, lustrous, well-groomed hair, just because you can't spend hour after hour at the hairdresser's. Many times, the hair you most admire gets such attention no more frequently than your own—but it does get Danderine!

Form the Danderine habit now. Every day before arranging your hair, sprinkle Danderine on your brush or comb. No tedious massage needed; the active formula does the work. Danderine removes dull, cloudy film which so often detracts from the smart appearance of many women's hair. Removes loose dandruff, too. ## Grid Squads Deadlock

TORONTO (CP)—R.C.A.F. Hurricanes and Toronto's Navy entry from the H.M.C.S. York training centre battled to a 7 to 7 deadlock Wednesday night in a floodlight Ontario Rugby Football Union game dedicated to Canada's Third Victory Loan.

The Hurricanes saved themselves from defeat with a stirring last-quarter drive, which brought them a converted touch-down and six points to match the lead, the sailors had built up in the earlier stages of the game.

The tie gave Navy undisputed possession of second spot in the league standing, one point ahead of Toronto Balm Beach and Hamilton Wildcats.

ARRIVES IN BRITAIN

List 49 Men Manitoba Regt. As Prisoners

OTTAWA (CP)—Names of 49 non-commissioned officers and men of the Winnipeg Grenadiers taken prisoners of war, at Hongkong, were announced today by the National Defence Department.

This list brought the total officially reported from Tokyo through the International Red Cross to 734. Canadians with the Grenadiers at Hongkong in the battle which lasted from Dec. 7 to Dec. 25 last year, were the Royal Rifles of Canada, a Quebec unit, and a brigade headquarters. It is expected that lists of members of these units who are prisoners will follow the Grenadiers list.

Today's list followed a list of 119 members of the Winnipeg Grenadiers issued Wednesday night.

Church Would Free Jailed Communists, Cut Liquor Sales

The United Church Victoria Presbytery, which represents all Vancouver Island, meeting here for fall sessions Tuesday and Wednesday, endorsed the action of the church's general council that the ban on the Communist Party and certain religious bodies in Canada be lifted.

The Presbytery said the practice of internment men on vague general charges was contrary to democratic principles.

In the evangelism and social service report, presented by Dr. A. E. Whitehouse, satisfaction was expressed regarding the recent expressed intention of the Dominion government to take steps to curtail expenditure of money on liquor. The Presbytery supported this move, especially as a war measure.

Rev. F. R. G. Dredge of Oak Bay presided at the sessions. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed. Rev. J. C. Jackson and Rev. J. S. Clark assisting the chairman in the communion service.

Dr. Whitehouse and J. Johnston, commissioners attending the general council at Belleville, Ont., reviewed proceedings of the conference.

Dr. J. W. Sippell said $17,000 of the $18,000 allotted to the Victoria Presbytery in the United Church War Loan effort, had been underwritten.

A resolution was passed urging members to include in their daily devotions the regular observance of a personal or family "minute of prayer," the time suggested being 6 p.m. daily.

The Home Mission report was presented by Rev. T. Reed of Nanaimo. Discussions followed on the welfare work of the United Church carried on throughout Vancouver Island.

WORK AMONG INDIANS

Rev. R. C. Scott, principal of the United Church residential school at Alberni, gave a report on the work carried on among the Indian children and youth. He appealed for an increase of evangelical and social activities in Indian villages, where at present no regular church ministry is carried on by any denomination.

A report giving details of United Church work among the Chinese of Nanaimo and Duncan was presented by Miss Mildred Mossop.

Luther Holling and George Moir, reporting for the Lay Association, emphasized the adoption of tithing as the most effective way of meeting financial obligations of the church. They pointed out the need of utilizing and directing the resources of the lay members and workers of the church.

'Tougher the Job the Better' Says Gen. Odlum of New Post

Maj. Gen. Victor Odlum reading in his hotel room today.

Provided there's a real tough job to do I'm ready to go anywhere," declared Maj. Gen. Victor Odlum, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., former commander of the Canadian 2nd Division overseas and more recently Canadian high commissioner to Australia, when interviewed here today about his prospective appointment to another important diplomatic post.

Gen. Odlum reached Victoria by the morning boat after serving Canada for two and a half years in far flung places in the world, still uncertain as to the next global point of action he will be assigned to.

He is accompanied by Mrs. Odlum, who joined her husband in the east following his arrival from Australia.

It has been variously reported unofficially that Gen. Odlum has been designated as Canada's first minister either to Russia or China.

MILITARY ASPECT DOMINANT

"I am not sure whether I shall eventually find myself in Moscow or Chungking, but I am a soldier and I'm prepared to go wherever they want to send me," said the general. "I'm physically fit, in good humor and ready to tackle any job anywhere. The tougher it is the better I shall like it."

"The military aspect is dominant in both countries," he said, referring to Soviet Russia and China, "so there ought to be plenty of problems to grapple with."

The general declined to say which country he had a preference for. "If I were to pick one country and then be sent to the other, I would be on the spot, wouldn't I," he said. "All I can say is that I leave a wonderful and interesting period of duty behind me, and what is to come is going to be wonderful, too, although I do not know at the moment where I am going."

Gen. Odlum gravely warned that the threat of invasion in Australia is serious.

"Australia has been seriously threatened and that threat has not passed away by any means," he said. "Right now, the balance is even—so even that with either side reinforced they would be in a locally dominant position."

General Odlum spoke enthusiastically of Australia and its people. While there he was officially stationed at Canberra, but he preferred to be constantly on the move and showed great stamina for a man of his age—he is 62—by visiting virtually every section of the southern Commonwealth and getting to know its people.

"The Australians are wonderful, friendly people," he enthused. "They would do anything for you without even asking your name. I spent seven months among them and I look upon the experience as one of the outstanding milestones of my life."

Gen. Odlum knows how to travel light to distant places. When he left the 2nd Division, he took a varied route across Europe and through the Middle East on his way to Australia. "The way I traveled," he commented, "you have to strip the bristles from your toothbrush to conserve space."

Since he took over his Australian appointment he has flown over 40,000 air miles, including the bridging of the vast expanse of the Pacific on his homeward trip.

"I am informed," he said, "that when I get to wherever I am going I shall have circled the globe twice in a year."

At luncheon today, Gen. Odlum addressed the Victoria branch of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

This evening he will meet some of his 2nd Division friends at an informal dinner.

Victoria Soldier Given Commission

W.O. T. Wilson of Victoria, now serving with the corps of military staff clerks with M.D. 11 headquarters in Vancouver, has been commissioned according to word received here today.

He enlisted here on Sept. 3, 1939, and was posted to the C.M.S. serving at Work Point until M.D. 11 was transferred to Vancouver in June last.

Boot Shortage Figure Discussed

The manner in which he arrived at a figure of 1,607, allegedly the number of pairs of boots for which the provincial government paid and for the delivery of which it had no record, was described in Assize Court today by John Harvey, deputy controller-general of B.C., as the trial of Leonard J. Simmons, former police quartermaster, and Joseph A. Walsh, manager-director of Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd., charged with conspiracy to defraud the government, continued. The evidence was adduced after Mr. Justice Sidney Smith had ruled admissible a statement signed by Mr. Walsh for the shoe company. It purported to be an affidavit stating merchandise listed by Mr. Harvey, following a survey of shortages, had been delivered to the quartermaster's stores. Joseph McKenna, counsel for Mr. Walsh, objected on the grounds the statement was termed an affidavit and had not been sworn.

Mr. Harvey identified various vouchers and invoices, and said he had prepared a summary of matter which seemed to him to require an explanation.

From that summary he listed discrepancies in the number of boots for which purchase invoices had been filed, but no entry had been made in the stock book. The survey covered the period from March 1, 1938, to 15, 1941.

An unexplained shortage of 313 pairs of high and 882 pairs of low boots, making a total of 1,195 had been shown, he said.

In addition, he testified he had found alterations in stock book balances from the end of one fiscal year, March 30, to the beginning of the next, April 1, amounting to 132 high and 30 low boots, making a total of 162.

He also found unexplained shortages amounting to 170 pairs of high boots in the number of issue requisitions to police constables which were not accounted for in the consignment receipts which were duplicates of the issue slips, except for the boot listings.

No acknowledgement was on record for 60 pairs of boots listed as sent to Oskalla during that period, he said.

The discrepancies were emphasized further, witness said, through the number of boots listed on hand in the stock book and the smaller number disclosed to be on hand through a physical check.

Under the lead of W. C. Moresby, K.C., crown prosecutor, Mr. Harvey went through various vouchers, stating prices for goods allegedly ordered and delivered, noting quantities which were not listed in the stock book.

The case is continuing.

The spirit of the times is well illustrated by the reports to Victory Loan Headquarters as bond salesmen return from their rounds. A Chinese houseboy proudly produced $50 for a Victory Bond, saying "all same sending bombs to Japan." Others have elements of tragedy, and all are permeated with a courage and conviction that can only come with a knowledge of duty to be done—and done by personal sacrifice.

Setting an example that will not be touched in the present campaign, a veteran of two wars used his last pension cheque to buy a $50 bond. He is blind and unable to walk. Another cheerfully postponed buying an artificial limb in order to invest in the loan, and a Royal Canadian Air Force pilot advised his mother from a Nazi prison camp to put more of his savings into Victory Bonds.

The Pacific coast shipbuilding industry is contributing substantially to the loan campaign in Vancouver. Burrard Shipyards in North Vancouver have exceeded 85 per cent of the employees' quota, and the North Vancouver Ship Repairs canvassed 352 acceptances out of 371 contracts.

"Proud of her sailor son, Mrs. George Gilbert of Vancouver gave him a Victory Bond as a coming-out gift on his 21st birthday."

"The Trail unit in British Columbia is out for $7,000,000, or more than double its quota, which has been already exceeded by nearly $2,500,000, because of large subscriptions from two big industries."

The luncheon meeting of Real Estate Board tomorrow will be addressed by Alderman W. L. Morgan, chairman of the special transportation committee of the City Council. He will explain the system of operation in Greater Victoria of the various transportation companies.

Missing

LAC. IAN (JOCK) MORTON has been missing since last February. He was last seen Feb. 15 in Sumatra, after the Japanese occupation of the Netherlands East Indies. LAC. Morton left Victoria in 1936 for England, where he enlisted in the R.A.F. In 1938 he went to Iraq, Greece and Crete. After the evacuation of Crete he returned to Iraq, and last December was transferred to Sumatra. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Morton of Hollywood, Cal., former residents of Victoria. He is 25 years old, and before leaving for England served with the 5th (B.C.) Regiment, C.G.A.

Mrs. Huntly Green Enchants Audience

By A. J.

Before a large and appreciative audience in the Empress Hotel ballroom last night, the Victoria Musical Arts Society presented its first professional concert of the 1942-43 season, with Gertrude Huntly Green, foremost Canadian woman pianist, as guest artist.

To those in the audience who, perhaps, heard Mrs. Green for the first time, her performance must have been a revelation of skilled pianism; to others whom she has enchanted on previous occasions, she brought fresh enchantment and fresh wonder, as she ranged from the delicate tone-picture of Schumann's Evening, to the thunderous measures of Chopin's Polonaise in A Flat. Perhaps one of Mrs. Green's greatest gifts is her ability, seemingly to enmesh her audience in a web of atmosphere, which she creates almost with her first note and which is not broken until her last has died away.

Her program opened with an arrangement by Godowski of "Capriccio" (The Gossips) by the 17th century composer, Dandrieux. Handled in an animated and pictorial style, it was followed in this group by a Minuetto Scherzando of Stavenhagen and Favorite Rondo by Hummel, both of which delighted the hearers with the crisp, delicate rhythm and the brilliant velocity of intricate finger passages.

In her masterly rendering of the Beethoven Sonata, Opus 2, No. 3 the artist revealed some of the depth of her musical conception. She went from the fiery grandeur of the Allegro Con Brio to the darkly colored, reflective cadences of the Adagio; from the broad exuberance of the Scherzo to the final Allegro, with consummate skill and artistry, reflecting in tone-palette and mood each fresh idea the music brought forth.

After the intermission came a group which included two numbers by Schumann, "Evening" and "In the Night," in which the pianist became again the lyric poet, sensitive and warm-toned. "Morn'ning Song" and "Rustle Dance" by Medtner, one of the great living composers, had vitality and breadth, and were followed by the exquisite perfection of five of the Brahms' waltzes and a Brahms Scherzo. This latter performance was one of the most brilliant of the evening, bold, with big rhythmic climaxes to which the pianist rose superbly.

The study for the Left Hand Alone by Blumenfeld was outstanding for its unique possibilities, all of which were completely utilized. Closing the program, Mrs. Green gave two Chopin numbers, the Study in C Sharp Minor, Opus 10, No. 4 and the stirring Polonaise in A Flat, to whose powerful cadences the pianist gave a masculine quality, a strong, vibrant interpretation that took her audience by storm.

As encores, Mrs. Green added the spirited and brilliant "Sequidilla" by Albeniz and the Bach Chorale, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," arranged by Myra Hess.

Another Sunday night variety concert for men of the services will be given by the Lions Club Sunday night at Royal Victoria Theatre, starting at 8.20.

Local Astronomers Take Leading Part In Universe Study

The leading part in determining the size of the universe through studying the motion of stars, which was begun here by the late Dr. J. S. Plaskett, is being continued and extended by Dr. J. A. Pearce of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich, Dr. R. M. Petrie of the observatory told the Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada Tuesday night.

In the first meeting of the winter program, which will cover a wide range of astronomical topics, Dr. Petrie discussed "The Size of the Universe." The illustrated lecture began with a survey of the Milky Way.

Studies show the universe to be in the shape of a greatly flattened cylinder or disc containing many millions of stars, one of which is our own sun, Dr. Petrie said.

Our sun, he said, is in the central plane but not close to the centre or "hub." Counts of stars and study of star clusters show the limits of the universe are about 16,000 light years beyond the position of the sun.

Studies of the velocity of stars show our universe to be turning about a central point, he said, and our sun is found to be about 30,000 light years from the centre. The sun is circling this distant region at a speed of 700,000 miles per hour, the astronomer said.

Diameter of the universe, found by studying the speed of stars, is 90,000 light years, and the weight of the universe is 180,000,000,000 suns, he said.

Our sun, Dr. Petrie said, is located two-thirds of the way from the centre to the rim of the universe and travels around the centre, which has been found to be in the great star clouds of the southern Milky Way, once over 200,000 years.

O. M. Prentice, vice-president, was in the chair. Robert Peters described the sky for the next month.

Subscription to the Third Victory Loan dropped to $900,000 for the last 24 hours, but as some of the island units were not fully reported, National War Finance Committee officials anticipated that it would be "down impetus of the campaign had not been lessened when complete returns were available."

At noon today the barometer of public reaction to the appeal was as follows: Victoria $2,791,700, Oak Bay $192,500, Esquimalt $48,200, Saanich-Gulf Islands $128,500, Nanaimo $138,200, Alberni $79,000, Cowichan-Duncan $89,200, Courtenay-Comox $42,150, totals $3,509,450.

"The Chinese community will rally at the United Church on Fisgard Street Saturday, when films will be shown and an appeal made for support of the Third Loan. A. C. R. Portway, organizer for the Chinese section said today that the Chinese interest in the loan is exemplary, the community having set aside a drive of $1,400,000 (Chinese) for their own people in order to concentrate on the Dominion's effort."

Joseph Hope, Dan Yen and J. G. Chow are community leaders who have, with Quan Yen, Wah Quan and George Chow worked closely with the War Finance Committee.

auspices the funeral will take place in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel on Saturday at 2, followed by cremation at Royal Oak.

CAMPBELL—Many friends attended funeral services Wednesday afternoon for Charles John Campbell in the chapel of S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. John Turner officiated, and interment was in the Royal Oak Burial Park. The pallbearers were: E. F. Dawson, H. G. Richards, A. Haut, L. Ball, H. H. Reed and C. W. Kinloch.

POWELL LOY IN 'THIN MAN' STORY

M.G.M.'s "Thin Man" picture has always set a record for witty, sophisticated entertainment, and "Shadow of the Thin Man," newest of the series, which opened today at the York Theatre with William Powell and Myrna Loy again cast as Nick and Nora Charles, proves no exception. Showing the sure touches of Maj. W. S. Van Dyke II, the director who has piloted all the previous "Thin Man" dramas to success, and knowingly cast with a group of comedy-wise supporting players, among them Barry Nelson, Donna Reed, Sam Levene, Alan Baxter and Henry O'Neill, the new episodes of the detective and his scintillating wife in no way falters on the path of true comedy-drama.

ACTOR NASH'S ACCENT SLIPPED

J. Carroll Nash's, accent slipped recently. Nash, who has played characters of about every known race and nationality on the screen, was doing a scene with Douglas Fairbanks Jr., in Edward Small's "The Corsican Brothers," which is now at the Cadet Theatre. He did the scene with feeling and didn't miss a line.

But when Director Gregory Ratoff said, "Cut," at the end of the scene, the crew and company went into gales of laughter. Nash was bewildered. So Ratoff explained. Unconsciously, Nash had played the whole scene in Italian organ-grinder dialect.

'Orchestra Wives' Dominion Booking

Several things go to make up an entertaining picture in "Orchestra Wives," which will be the feature attraction at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

First, the picture stars the band that for three successive years has been voted America's most popular band in a poll conducted by authoritative Billboard Magazine. That's Glenn Miller and his talented crew of instrumentalists and vocalists.

Then there is George Montgomery, lately one of the "Ten Gentlemen From West Point." He's a handsome lad, a trumpet player, with one foot in the groove and the other in matrimony. And co-starred with Miller and Montgomery is Ann Rutherford, an orchestra wife who, alas! almost becomes a brass widow.

CAPITOL THEATRE

In "This Above All," the Darryl F. Zanuck production of Eric Knight's best seller, which is now showing at the Capitol Theatre and stars Tyrone Power with her, Joan Fontaine delivers what is probably the longest uninterrupted speech ever to be recorded by a camera sound track—a speech that consumes three minutes of running time.

 The final scene of M.G.M.'s "Mrs. Miniver," now at the Atlas Theatre, takes place in a bombed English church. Henry Wilcoxon, the vicar, looks up and says, "A damaged roof, but one through which the sun now shines as it never could before."

Wilcoxon stood on a makeshift pulpit while the set was being lighted. Suddenly as light from a huge lamp lit two shattered beams, it threw a shadow on the wall.

The shadow formed a ragged but perfect "V."

For Eczema—Skin Troubles
 Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. Go to any good drug store and get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil—it lasts many days because it is highly concentrated.

The very first application will give you relief—the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped—eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Itching Toes and Feet, Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum and other skin troubles.

Remember that Moore's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue. Complete satisfaction or money back.

Dorothy Dix:

Girl Who Picks Up Men
Breaks Code of Chivalry

Dear Miss Dix—What do you think about girls "wolfing" sailors? In a way you don't know what this term implies, it means that the girls pick up the sailors instead of it being the other way about. I live near a big naval station where there are hundreds and hundreds of young men in training. They have only to appear on the street and the girls literally kidnap them. They bear down on the young chaps like the wolf on the fold, in the old poem. Each grabs a sailor and before he knows what is happening to him, or get a chance to defend himself, his captor has borne him off to some place of amusement.

The girls, supposedly from decent families, claim that they are doing a patriotic duty in entertaining these sailors and that it is good, clean fun. But I wonder. AN OLD-FASHIONED WOMAN

Answer: I don't think there is much to wonder about unless you are at the age that still believes in fairy tales. No man would feel obligated to treat a girl with respect who practically shanghaied him into going off with her. He would certainly think that she belonged to the class of ladies who practice what has been called the oldest profession in the world, and nobody could blame him for the assumption when they use the same tactics in securing their men.

For, the world over, a woman's conduct rates her standing with civilized men. If she is dignified, reserved, modest, she can travel anywhere and receive only courteous attentions from men. She can work side-by-side with men, and go through the slums at midnight safely, as is proven by the thousands of nuns and social workers and nurses and members of the Red Cross to whom even depraved men take off their hats when they pass on their beneficent missions.

But the reverse of this is also true. When a girl throws all of her feminine reserve into the discard; when she picks up men like a street-walker and dresses and acts like a hoodlum, she breaks the age-old code of civility that protected a good woman; and she has no right to be treated as if she were a good one. She has written her own price tag.

HUMAN NATURE
UNCHANGED

One of the most terrible things about the war is that neither mothers nor girls seem to realize that it has not changed human nature. Nor has it altered the standards of decency that civilization has evolved through the centuries. Because girls are overflowing with patriotism does not make it safe for them to do the things that are basically dangerous.

For it is true that many of these shockingly young girls whom we see everywhere, picking acquaintances with soldiers and sailors on the streets; inviting these boys whom they never saw before and whose names they do not even know, to go riding with them in their cars; asking them to dances, or to go to the movies with him, or accepting the boys' invitations to go somewhere to have a drink, do belong to respectable families and are decent themselves.

They mean no harm. They are just too ignorant of life, too unsophisticated to know what they are doing, or to realize what they would seem to a man. They just have the silly notion that somehow, somehow, they are adding to their country's defence by being "nice" to the soldiers. And in this perilous belief they are aided and abetted only too often by their foolish mothers.

Women, who should know better, let their daughters do things in time of war that they would not dream of letting them do in times of peace. They would not let a little school girl go about with men of whom they knew nothing. Still less would they let them marry them. But because there is a war on all bars are down.

Arabella roams the streets unchaperoned. She hangs around camps. She marries a good-looking with brass buttons on without her parents troubling to find out what his middle name and where he came from. And, unfortunately, Arabella, at 16, is no wiser, no more capable of taking care of herself because of the war than she would be if it were a time of peace. And also, unfortunately, a uniform doesn't turn a rake into a plaster saint.

The saddest casualties of the war are going to be these young girls whose mothers failed to protect them.

Animals Spread Seeds
Of Many Trees

Autumn is the season in which squirrels do most of their work of storing nuts. They know that a time is coming when food will not be easy to get, so they put some of it away for winter.

The nuts may be stored in trees or in the ground. A single squirrel is likely to use dozens of storing places.

If all the nuts were dug up in the winter, squirrels would not play such a big part in the plant world. As it is, the animals often forget the storing places, or fail to return to them for some other reason.

As a result, many hickory nuts, chestnuts, walnuts, butter-nuts and acorns are left in the ground when spring comes. In many cases the nuts take root and new trees grow up.

So we may thank the squirrels for spreading trees over the earth. If all the nuts were left where they were dropped by a tree, some might be covered and sprout the next year, but there would be too much crowding. When young trees grow too close together, some of them must die. There is a limit to the number of trees which can grow in a certain space. Squirrels often place nuts at a distance of hundreds of feet from the spot where they were picked up.

Other kinds of plants produce no nuts, and they must use other ways to spread their seeds. Yet they may have the help of animals in carrying on their race. Many bushes and some trees grow seeds with points on them. The points may be barbed, and in any case are likely to cling to the fur of animals.

To some extent the bars and other pointed parts guard the plants from being eaten by grazing animals, but they also serve to spread the seed.

Some weeds have "pitchfork" seeds, and many animals get them in their fur. Sooner or later, the seeds will be dropped, perhaps miles away. Then new "pitchfork plants" grow and produce new pitchfork seeds.

Grapple plants of South Africa have barbed hooks on their seeds, and these become anchored in the fur of animals. Cattle in South Africa have done a great deal to spread the grapple plant seeds.

Victory Ticket
Helps Farmer
To Buy Bonds

Victory Loan workers calling on the farm homes throughout the island have a new plan of recruiting the 1942 crop of farm dollars. This is the Victory Ticket—unique, imaginative device which sprang from the grass roots in western Canada and is now to be adopted nation-wide by the National War Finance Committee as an auxiliary method of channeling farm income into the war effort.

Victory Tickets are a means whereby Canadian farmers, in addition to their cash purchases of Victory Loans or War Savings Certificates, may acquire bonds or certificates in exchange for farm produce at the time that produce is marketed.

No down payment is required to purchase Victory Tickets. Farmer Johnston, who can afford say only $100 in cash but who expects to market 10 or 20 hogs next December, can boost his Victory Bond purchases to $300 or $500 by merely putting a Victory Ticket on his pigs. Subsequently he tenders his pigs in payment for Victory Loans or War Savings Securities Certificates. The deal is completed at the time his pigs go to market. Meanwhile he gets a Victory Ticket which is, in effect, an undertaking between himself and the National War Finance Committee authorizing completion of the transaction when the pigs or other farm produce are marketed. The farmer receives a Victory Ticket for each such transaction. When the deal is completed he gets an official seal to paste on his ticket.

Behind the Victory Ticket idea is the common-sense fact that most cash farm income, unlike most wages or salary payments, is seasonal and irregular. Many farmers will have in 1942 a capacity to purchase Victory Bonds or War Savings Certificates considerably beyond their cash resources as at the date the can-casser comes round to talk Third Victory Loan. That income, as a rule, will be tied up with the sale of some farm produce—pigs, livestock, grain, vegetables, fruit, tobacco.

By means of the Victory Ticket it is hoped that farmers will earmark the proceeds of the sale of these farm products for Victory Loan or War Savings Certificates.

Credit Unions Meet

The co-operative movement had made the greatest growth in countries where economic necessity compelled self-help. H. D. Wallace, president of Victoria Co-operative Consumers' Society, said in an address at the monthly meeting of Victoria Chapter of Credit Unions in St. Andrew's Cathedral parish hall.

Great Britain and the Scandinavian countries previous to the war had achieved remarkable results in reducing costs and raising standards of living by co-operative methods of buying and selling their products, Mr. Wallace said.

The credit union movement was only the first step on the road of co-operation, and that now when money was plentiful, plans for further progress should be prepared, the speaker said.

A committee consisting of R. F. Williams, Mrs. J. A. O'Brien and F. H. Humphrey was appointed to collect data on the matter and submit a report to the chapter.

R. F. Williams presided.

• Yes, thinking a lot, lately—and now I'm going to do something.

But first, let me tell you about my thinking. I'm typical of thousands of Canadians. I'm approaching middle age... married... have children (they're almost old enough to join the armed forces)... and I have a steady job and a fair income.

For three years I've been, theoretically, "at war"—but until now I haven't been really in it. I've followed the war (that's right, "followed" is the word!)—followed it daily—in my newspapers.

I cursed the Germans over Rotterdam... despaired at the Fall of France... thrilled at the story of Dunkirk... shuddered at the Battle of Britain... then cheered the R.A.F. when the Luftwaffe turned tail in defeat. And I remember that historic Sunday, December 7th, when the Japs came in.

No need to go on, you see how keenly (!) interested in the war was I. During this time I was doing my bit, too. (Don't laugh!) I bought a few War Savings Certificates—and, by Jove! during the last Victory Loan this year I actually bought a Bond (like throwing a penny on the drum!) You see, in this way of following the war, my own way of life, and that of thousands like me, was pretty well untouched.

Then one day I saw myself in the true light... a spectator outside the arena, while the peril was being fought off for me by others. I began to see those perils... possible defeat... cruelty, slavery, desolation... my loved ones, my Canada, my home and my possessions, all that I cherish, destroyed at the hands of the Nazis and the Japs.

At last I did some serious thinking. Like a sudden shock came the resolve. Canada needs—the crisis demands—that I do something. I'm not in the fighting line, so I must get behind those who are. I must send them guns, and tanks, and planes, and ships.

So my wife and I spent hours at the week-end, figuring on a new budgeting of our income. We're going to change our way of life, to help prevent the Nazis changing it for us. We're going to cut out every unnecessary expenditure, and cut down many of the necessary ones, too, in order to lend all the money we can to Canada.

I'm going to buy VICTORY BONDS, not alone because it is a splendid investment, but because—as you see—"I've been thinking... now I'LL DO SOMETHING! I'll do my utmost in helping to put the new Victory Loan ($750,000,000) over the top."

WEAR YOUR COMMANDO DAGGER

It is a symbol indicating that you have bought the new Victory Bonds.

HOW TO BUY—Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hand of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

You will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when you need the cash.
